WILSON WILL LIFT EMBARGO ON ARMS.

Exportation to Both Sides in Mexico to be Permitted.

Action Taken to Secure Condition of Absolute Neutrality.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Wilson has decided to lift the embargo on exportation of arms to Mexico. A proclamation under the authority of the Congressional resolution of 1912, which will restore the status of the arms question to a position where both Huerta forces and Constitutionalists may import arms from the United States, soon will be issued from the White House.

President Taft issued the proclamation which barred the exportation of arms to all sides, March 14, 1912. He did that under the authority of a joint resolution which empowered the President to take such action whenever he should find that in any American country "conditions of domestic violence exist which are promoted by the use of arms and munitions of war procured from the United States."

News of the action about to be taken by the President became known today through sources which have been constantly advised of the administration policy toward Mexico. It also was stated that the subject was discussed at the cabinet meeting today. There were intimations that an official announcement of the administration's purpose would come from the White House later.

It is believed that President Wilson finally decided to raise the embargo after being convinced that by restricting shipments of arms to Mexico the United States was not really showing neutrality, which was the purpose of the embargo, but was in fact showing partiality, as the Huerta forces were enabled to procure large supplies from abroad, while the Constitutionalists, limited almost entirely to shipments from the United States, could obtain arms and ammunition practically only by smuggling. It has been frequently represented to the administration during the progress of the Mexican negotiations that, if the United States would permit free shipments of arms to General Carranza, the rebels would undertake to restore peace in Mexico and set up a constitutional government within a short time.

It is understood in official circles that announcement of the determination to lift the embargo had gone forward to Charge O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City, probably with instructions to advise the Huerta government.

Constitutionalist agents in Washington learned of the development unofficially and declared that the end of the war is in sight.

The President's decision was reached after many months of careful study of the arms problem, and while in the first instance the belief of the administration was that the denial of arms was a humane act; the conviction has grown upon the Washington government that its policy had operated inequally toward the warring factions. Partiality, instead of neutrality, was the result of the policy, in the opinion of the President and members of his cabinet, who finally determined that the real neutral course would be to put both factions on an even footing.

Although General Villa and other Constitutionalist chiefs have repeatedly declared that they had captured sufficient ammunition from the Federal army and garrisons, and that they felt well supplied the Washington government, while realizing the important effect morally throughout Mexico that its act will produce, is insistent that its position as neutral should be maintained.

VILLA ISSUES WARNING.

Spaniards Captured in Torreon Campaign to be Dealt With.

JUAREZ, Feb. 3.—A warning was issued by General Francisco Villa today that all Spaniards captured in the Torreon campaign will be summarily dealt with. General Villa said he had positive proof that many Spaniards in Torreon had taken up arms against the rebels and that all such would be shot. Others, he said, would be banished from the country.

"In conformity with my conception of justice, I wish to notify all foreign governments that I have positive information that the Spanish residents of Torreon have sided with the Federal forces there, and that it is my purpose to execute these Spaniards if we capture them," said General Villa. "I am making this statment now, so that no surprise will be expressed later, and to give such Spaniards a chance to leave the country before they fall into my hands."

TO CUT SALARIES OF COMMITTEE CLERKS.

House Action Not Expected to be Followed in Senate.

Act to Prohibit Dumping of Refuse Off Rose Island.

[Special despatch to the News.]

PROVIDENCE, Feb. 3.—The house put the matter of political clerkships to the senate today. The pay of these clerks, who draw $600 and $800 for a few days' work, is fixed by the General Laws. The house has now amended this and cut the salaries to $100 and $500. It is not expected that the senate will concur and the clerks therefore expect to receive the full amount. There was quite a fight in the house before the reduction was made.

The use of the deep waters off Rose Island as a dumping ground for refuse from up the bay is again attacked by an act intended to prohibit this disposition of such material.

Last week's disturbance over Chairman Gardner's refusal to call a meeting of the committee on special legislation had its echo today, when a resolution was introduced in the house which would provide for meetings of committees even if the chairmen are not inclined to have them.

In the senate the Providence milk act was transmitted from the house and Senator Munroe asked for immediate placing on the calendar. This was denied and the act was referred to the judiciary committee.

In the absence of Senator Beeckman, Senator Gorton of Pawtucket moved the immediate passage of the resolution, granting Lawton-Warren Relief Corps the use of the Newport Armory. There was no objection and the resolution passed.

Senator Head of Jamestown presented a bill of $171 for repairs to the Newport County jail. Committee on accounts and claims.

Senator Archambault of Warwick introduced an amendment to Senator Beeckman's workingman's compensation act. Judiciary committee.

Senator Munroe of Providence introduced an act which provides that no flag be carried in a parade unless accompanied by the Stars and Stripes. Judiciary committee.

Senator Pierce of Cranston introduced an act making the jewelry industry a seasonable occupation. This would permit the employment of women and children during the rush season 56 instead of 54 hours a week. Judiciary committee.

In the house Mr. Peck of Barrington introduced a resolution appropriating $2,000 for bringing the birth, death and marriage record up to date. Finance committee.

Mr. Levy of Newport introduced an act prohibiting dumping south of a line drawn between the north end of Conanicut island and Carr's point in Portsmouth. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Ballou of Providen introduced a resolution which provides that, in case the chairman of a committee shall fail to call a meeting after being requested by three members of the legislature, the other members of the committee shall after two legislative days come together, whether the chairman be present or not. Judiciary committee.

Mr. Lawton of Newport, for the committee on judiciary, reported the act providing for Newport's recreation board. Calendar.

Mr. Levy of Newport introduced an act relative to birds. Judiciary committee.

BY VOTE OF 103 TO 54.

Asiatic Exclusion Amendments to Immigration Bill Defeated.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—All Asiatic exclusion amendments to the immigration bill were defeated today in the House. The Hayes-Lenroot amendment was beaten, 103 to 54, after an overwhelming defeat of a similar amendment by Representative Raker, 182 to 6.

The bill as it stands is merely an immigration measure without restrictions as to race or color. The Hayes-Lenroot amendment would have excluded Asiatics, "except those already provided for in passport agreements or treaties" thus drawn to avoid reference to Japanese or Chinese.

Representative Raker, leading the Pacific coast delegation contending for Asiatic exclusion, offered a substitute more drastic in terms. Both were beaten. The debate at times was hot and the House was in confusion.

Republican Leader Mann, in a speech which brought fourth outbursts of applause, gravely pleaded with his Republican colleagues to put aside all consideration of party allegiance and vote against the amendments. "We owe an allegiance to the country," he said, "above our party allegiance. Foreign affairs should be handled in a delicate way. We owe it to California to protect her against herself."

Representative Sherley of Kentucky made a similar plea to the Democrats, and despite the fact that the votes yesterday showed a strong sentiment for the amendments they were rejected.

MANDATE ISSUED.

Provincial Assemblies Throughout China Abolished.

PEKIN, Feb. 3.—A presidential mandate abolishing the provincial assemblies throughout China is to be issued here today. The provincial assemblies throughout China was assemblies established under the republican government had power to enact laws applying only to their respective provinces. They also controlled the provincial budgets and ordained the method of collecting provincial taxes as well as controlling the issue of provincial loans.

ZAMOR PROCLAIMS HIMSELF PRESIDENT.

About 300 of Rival Haytien Armies Killed at Gonaives.

No Foreign Property Damaged in Fire During the Battle.

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, Feb. 3.—Three hundred men of the rival revolutionary armies were killed in battle yesterday at Gonaives, in which the adherents of Senator Davilmar Theodore were signally defeated by the followers of General Orestes Zamor. Senator Theodore and his men were driven back in a northerly direction to Plaisance, on the road to Cape Haytien.

After the conclusion of the fighting, General Orestes Zamor proclaimed himself chief executive of the republic. General Carlos Zamor, government delegate at Gonaives, assisted his brother in the battle and General Desormes fought by their side.

The fire which broke out in the city of Gonaives during the battle was not so serious as at first believed. Fifteen houses were destroyed, but no foreign property was damaged.

POLITICAL SITUATION MIXED.

Attempts to Arrest Dr. Durand at Lima Unsuccessful.

LIMA, Peru, Feb 3.—Unsuccessful attempts to arrest Dr. Agusto Durand, former revolutionary leader, were made by the police in the course of the night. His residence was searched and five visitors were taken into custody. A raid was then made on the Union Club, where four members were seized. The premises were closed and a police guard was left in charge.

The political situation has become complicated. Congress in December refused to sanction the budget for 1914, presented to it in August, and the government thereupon issued a decree declaring the estimates would remain in force for the next 12 months.

SENTENCE SUSPENDED.

Littauer Brothers Plead Guilty to Conspiracy to Smuggle Jewelry.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Lucius N. Littauer, a former Congressman, and William Littauer, his brother, both of Gloversville, N. Y., pleaded guilty in the federal district court today to conspiracy to smuggle jewelry into this country. Sentence was suspended until tomorrow.

The Littauers, in satisfaction of civil claims brought against them by the customs authorities in connection with the smuggling, paid the government $14,000. The brothers were indicted January 27 on three counts. They were charged with attempting to evade the duty on a Venetian diamond and pearl tiara and several other articles of jewelry valued at $40,000 and intended, it was said, for William Littauer's wife. Lucius was accused of bringing the jewels into the country concealed in a trunk, and William of receiving them.

The court's announcement that it would postpone sentence until tomorrow followed pleas by counsel for light punishment.

WOULD RE-OPEN INQUIRY.

Senator Norris Does Not Press His New Haven Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senator Norris today introduced a resolution for the Interstate Commerce Commission to re-open its New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad inquiry, but did not press for its consideration. The Norris resolution would direct special inquiry on:

"What became of New Haven funds wrongfully invested at fictitious values in various enterprises and corporations?

"Whether those authorizing such investment and those receiving the benefit are liable do punishment under existing laws?

"Whether under existing law such funds so invested can be recovered on behalf of the New Haven stockholders?

"What legislation, if any, is necessary to prevent the recurrence of similar transactions?"

Consideration went over until tomorrow.

USE OF RADIUM GIVEN UP.

All Hope for Congressman Bremner's Recovery Abandoned.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3.—Although he passed a fairly comfortable night Robert G. Bremner, the New Jersey Congressman who is suffering from a malignant cancer, at a sanitorium here, was reported to be weaker today. The radium applications have been discontinued, as all hope for the patient's recovery has been abandoned.

WILSON WILL LIFT EMBARGO ON ARMS.

Exportation to Both Sides in Mexico to be Permitted.

Action Taken to Secure Condition of Absolute Neutrality.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—President Wilson has decided to lift the embargo on exportation of arms to Mexico. A proclamation under the authority of the Congressional resolution of 1912, which will restore the status of the arms question to a position where both Huerta forces and Constitutionalists may import arms from the United States, soon will be issued from the White House.

President Taft issued the proclamation which barred the exportation of arms to all sides, March 14, 1912. He did that under the authority of a joint resolution which empowered the President to take such action whenever he should find that in any American country "conditions of domestic violence exist which are promoted by the use of arms and munitions of war procured from the United States."

News of the action about to be taken by the President became known today through sources which have been constantly advised of the administration policy toward Mexico. It also was stated that the subject was discussed at the cabinet meeting today. There were intimations that an official announcement of the administration's purpose would come from the White House later.

It is believed that President Wilson finally decided to raise the embargo after being convinced that by restricting shipments of arms to Mexico the United States was not really showing neutrality, which was the purpose of the embargo, but was in fact showing partiality, as the Huerta forces were enabled to procure large supplies from abroad, while the Constitutionalists, limited almost entirely to shipments from the United States, could obtain arms and ammunition practically only by smuggling. It has been frequently represented to the administration during the progress of the Mexican negotiations that, if the United States would permit free shipments of arms to General Carranza, the rebels would undertake to restore peace in Mexico and set up a constitutional government within a short time.

It is understood in official circles that announcement of the determination to lift the embargo had gone forward to Charge O'Shaughnessy in Mexico City, probably with instructions to advise the Huerta government.

Constitutionalist agents in Washington learned of the development unofficially and declared that the end of the war is in sight.

The President's decision was reached after many months of careful study of the arms problem, and while in the first instance the belief of the administration was that the denial of arms was a humane act; the conviction has grown upon the Washington government that its policy had operated inequally toward the warring factions. Partiality, instead of neutrality, was the result of the policy, in the opinion of the President and members of his cabinet, who finally determined that the real neutral course would be to put both factions on an even footing.

Although General Villa and other Constitutionalist chiefs have repeatedly declared that they had captured sufficient ammunition from the Federal army and garrisons, and that they felt well supplied the Washington government, while realizing the important effect morally throughout Mexico that its act will produce, is insistent that its position as neutral should be maintained.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—All Asiatic exclusion amendments to the immigration bill were defeated today in the House. The Hayes-Lenroot amendment was beaten, 103 to 54, after an overwhelming defeat of a similar amendment by Representative Raker, 182 to 6.

The bill as it stands is merely an immigration measure without restrictions as to race or color. The Hayes-Lenroot amendment would have excluded Asiatics, "except those already provided for in passport agreements or treaties" thus drawn to avoid reference to Japanese or Chinese.

Senator Theodore and his men were driven back in a northerly direction to Plaisance, on the road to Cape Haytien.

After the conclusion of the fighting, General Orestes Zamor proclaimed himself chief executive of the republic. General Carlos Zamor, government delegate at Gonaives, assisted his brother in the battle and General Desormes fought by their side.

The fire which broke out in the city of Gonaives during the battle was not so serious as at first believed. Fifteen houses were destroyed, but no foreign property was damaged.

POLITICAL SITUATION MIXED.

Attempts to Arrest Dr. Durand at Lima Unsuccessful.

LIMA, Peru, Feb 3.—Unsuccessful attempts to arrest Dr. Agusto Durand, former revolutionary leader, were made by the police in the course of the night. His residence was searched and five visitors were taken into custody. A raid was then made on the Union Club, where four members were seized. The premises were closed and a police guard was left in charge.

Littauer Brothers Plead Guilty to Conspiracy to Smuggle Jewelry.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Lucius N. Littauer, a former Congressman, and William Littauer, his brother, both of Gloversville, N. Y., pleaded guilty in the federal district court today to conspiracy to smuggle jewelry into this country. Sentence was suspended until tomorrow.

The Littauers, in satisfaction of civil claims brought against them by the customs authorities in connection with the smuggling, paid the government $14,000. The brothers were indicted January 27 on three counts. They were charged with attempting to evade the duty on a Venetian diamond and pearl tiara and several other articles of jewelry valued at $40,000 and intended, it was said, for William Littauer's wife. Lucius was accused of bringing the jewels into the country concealed in a trunk, and William of receiving them.

The court's announcement that it would postpone sentence until tomorrow followed pleas by counsel for light punishment.

Senator Norris Does Not Press His New Haven Resolution.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Senator Norris today introduced a resolution for the Interstate Commerce Commission to re-open its New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad inquiry, but did not press for its consideration. The Norris resolution would direct special inquiry on:

"What became of New Haven funds wrongfully invested at fictitious values in various enterprises and corporations?

"Whether those authorizing such investment and those receiving the benefit are liable to punishment under existing laws?

"Whether under existing law such funds so invested can be recovered on behalf of the New Haven stockholders?

"What legislation, if any, is necessary to prevent the recurrence of similar transactions?"

Consideration went over until tomorrow.

GREEKS ASK FOR JUSTICE.

Bulgarians, by Defamation, Seek to "Put Shoe on Another's Foot."

Appeal to American People by Victims of Tartar Brutality for a Fair Hearing.

[Athantis, the National Daily Greek Newspaper.]

For some time past the suffering and starving hordes of Bulgaria have been called to the attention and sympathies of the American public with emphasis and persistence—so be it—great suffering and distress undoubtedly exists—the consequence of terrible and devastating war, and the unwillingness or inability of a grasping government and a people lacking both patriotism and co-ordination to grapple with conditions and bring order out of chaos. Let generous America give generously if she will—Greece does not ask for alms— but she is voicing her protest against the accusations of wholesale atrocities, murder and rapine publicly, and officially brought against her by Bulgaria, in an effort to excite sympathy, and most of all, to distract attention from the proved and acknowledged atrocities committed by her troops, which shocked and incensed the whole civilized world.

By declaring themselves the victims not the perpetrators, of unspeakable cruelties and wanton destruction, they have sought to "put the shoe on another's foot." Their activities in the broadcast dissemination of defamatory literature concerning the Greeks have reached every country on earth. In America they have been given unwarranted publicity and credit—unwarranted in that the dreadful results of Bulgarian ferocity are a matter of public record and are at the disposal of any one who will give the time to ascertain them.

Unfortunately the "lurid allegations" proved so colorful that they were seized upon with avidity by certain journalistic interests and, with no thought of the injustice involved, set forth as facts to the public. The Greeks of America are righteously indignant—they have not asked help from any other country for their destitute thousands at home—they have co-operated in strenuous self-sacrifice to suffice to these pressing needs—but they do demand and expect common justice and a fair hearing from the American people.

The very paper that is now conducting a whitewashing campaign and passing around the hat for Bulgaria printed in its columns not six months ago the following: "With the exception of the Greeks, who observed the principles of humanity and Christian warfare, the Balkan peoples have shown themselves to be hordes of murderers and savages." The present attitude of this publication cannot be due to any change of conviction—for the facts remain the same—to the shame of Bulgaria, they are now a part of the history of the nineteenth century. The reason then must be in the sensational elements involved.

Let the sympathizers with the "heroes of the Balkans" urge their readers to help the stricken nation, but when it comes to denunciation of those responsible for the prevailing misery existing now, not only in Bulgaria, but all over the Balkans, let them place the blame where it belongs or else pass silently over the whole tragic subject. Have they forgotten the statements of Sir Edward Grey in the House of Commons or the results of the French investigations? Yet Mr. Pichon, minister of foreign affairs, unqualifiedly confirmed the accusations and the protest of the Greek government against the Bulgarian army when, with the close of the second Balkan war they began in their retreat the systematic slaughter of the Greek non-combatants in Macedonia and the looting and total devastation of the country.

The first Secretary of the French Legation at Athens, acting under instructions from the home office, visited Serres, Doxato and Nigrita immediately after evacuation by the Bulgarians. His personal report was of the most revolting nature—hundreds of defenseless Greeks had been massacred in a manner that only fiendish Tartar ingenuity could have imagined or executed. The consuls of Austria and Italy at Salonica visited Serres, and, after official inspection of the smoking ruins of the once flourishing city and the questioning of the few survivors, confirmed the righteousness of the bitter protest of the Greek government.

Even the few Bulgarian inhabitants of the devastated area gave testimony to the insane fury of their confrères denouncing them as assassins and bandits who spared neither non-combatants nor their own countrymen.

The wholesale and inhuman slaughter of the Mohammedan population by the Bulgarians during the Greco-Turkish war was officially confirmed by the British foreign minister, Sir Edward Grey's accusations were based on the British consular reports from Monastir and Thrace. The minister refused, however to make public the details of the matter, contending that consular reports were confidential, and moreover that he had refused to publish reports from the same consuls concerning the massacres committed by the Turks. Nowhere is there even a question of "Greek atrocities."

"Forgive us, oh ghosts of the Huns, if in an endeavor to describe the Bulgarian atrocities, we have wronged you by comparing their deeds to the traditions of horror you have left to posterity," wrote Signor Luciano Magrini, war correspondent of the Messaggero of Rome and the Secolo of Milan, after his visit to Macedonia and Thrace during the second Balkan war, when he beheld the remains of the towns and villages burned by the Bulgarians and the corpses of Greek and Turkish peasants slain or burned alive by the "soldiers of Ferdinand." Captain Cardale of the British naval army accompanied one of the French officials on his heartrending mission of investigation and reported to his government scenes of unparalleled horror. The Bulgarian bishop of drama issued a forceful protest against the deeds of the soldiers of his own country, while the newspapers of Sofia are full of admissions and even boasts that are hair-raising.

Whosoever undertakes to defend the barbarians of Bulgaria will find himself face to face with such a crowd of hideous facts that he must find a question either ridiculous or infamous.

The fiendish fury of the Bulgar is peculiar to his race—the Tartar. He has no place among European races. He is of the same stock as the Huns and Vandals that overran Europe.

[illegible] thousand years, [illegible] and held the territory he now occupies he has shown [illegible] the surface of Superficial civilization is scratched, to be the ferocious, blood-mad descendant of the ancestors whose boast and glory was war, torture, pillage and rape, to whom the ideal of truth was a laughing stock and the oath of honor but a means of duping an enemy.

Then same conditions pertain in Central Asia today. Go find the Pekin Gazette and read the records of the Tai-Ping rebellion in China so awful that even the Kurdish officials and the Kuhns of India protested. The little brother to the Tartar does not willingly with the rule of mercy and self-control.

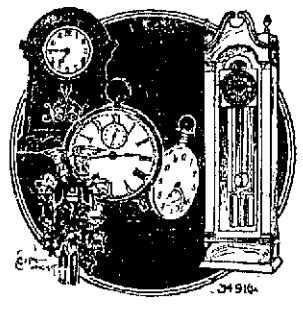

No European could have committed or permitted such deeds as Bulgaria has set to her discredit. At her door alone lies the incredible but only too well verified slaughter of 150,000 non-combatant Mohammedans—women and children—drowned, burned, shot or bayonetted in an fiery advance against the Turks at Louis-Bourgas. He turned his murderous frenzy against the non-combatants of Greece when the armies of that nation were driving him from Macedonia. All this is no secret. By letters, photographs, official examinations, national investigations, it is all verified. Like the Tartar that he is, the Bulgarian slays, when victorious, from sheer lust of slaughter and national enthusiasm, and when defeated he raped, tortured and slew in sheer hysteria of revenge.

The Greeks are the outposts of European civilization of which Greece herself was the mother. Never in all her annals has she shown one evidence of Tartar brutality. On the contrary, a national spirit of force and idealism, a respect for the laws that were even the expression of the aspirations of the whole people have from time immemorial been hers. Her armies fought against an army barbaric in its methods—she fought beside an army even more inhuman—yet she conducted her campaign according to the rules of warfare laid down by the nations of Europe. Is her honor now to be besmirched? Is she to stand by and permit her racial soul to be defiled by calumny? Shame on those who would commit such injustice! Could the members of any nation, save the cruel Tartar, have taken as his mementoes and spoils of war portions of his victims, dried in the smoke of their burning homes? Yet this was the common habit of the Bulgarian trooper. On the persons of the prisoners taken by the Greeks during the last war were found innumerably such ghastly trophies—that only too graphically recorded the slaughter of men, women and babies, and not only slaughter, but hideously dismembered.

A Bulgarian priest who was brought to Athens was found wearing a necklace of such unspeakable "souvenirs." This inhuman soldiery seemed wholly unconscious of the enormity of their acts. On the contrary, they had looked for praise and hero worship upon their victorious return. Such, and such always, has been the concept of heroism among the Tartar clans. The race that invaded the northern portion of the Balkan peninsula 1,200 years ago has proved true to its parent blood. Bulgaria now is awake to her disgraceful position among the nations. Shall she be permitted to endeavor to clear herself forever from the stain of innocent blood by heaping false accusations upon her neighbors? What must we think of those who assist her in this last and most cowardly crime? The 200,000 Greeks of America call upon the millions of Americans: "Give the Bulgarians your money; we ask only your justice!"

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is a new and remarkable discovery. The nauseous taste and smell are taken out, but nothing else. It's all of the oil, but none of the taste, and so well purified that it acts better. Without griping, and does not upset the stomach. Children take it readily.

Women and women's indoors find Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil a quick relief from the distress of poor digestion, and it is a perfect laxative. Kellogg's is not mixed or flavored, just a true, tasteless castor oil.

Ask for Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil at any drug store. Not sold in bulk, but in 25c or 50c bottles, trademarked with a green castor leaf bearing the signature, Kellogg's. Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, N. Y., oil refiners.

FIFTEEN LESS TRAINS ON NEW HAVEN ROAD.

Fifteen local Boston trains on the New Haven road are discontinued because of the cancellation of the traffic agreement between the New Haven and the Boston & Albany railroads. These locals have made part of their runs into Boston over the Boston & Albany tracks, but as the Interstate Commerce Commission and the Department of Justice disapproved of the traffic agreement from a financial view point the railroads cancelled the agreement. The New Haven trains will end their runs on New Haven tracks, but good connections will be made with Boston & Albany trains.

SEEKING.

On tireless quest,
That knoweth no rest,
Forever my spirit urges its wings,
Through silences deep,
Where memories sleep,
And out where the strength of creation sings,
I seek it—the thought of God.

Oh, what if it be
'Tis God's thought of me
That, fettered within me, struggles to rise?
If here in my heart,
A sentient part
Of Him whom I sought through the earth and skies
I find it—the thought of God?

FANCIES.

How many a hungry man would say,
Could he foresee fame's brave device,
"Build me no monuments, I pray,
I'd really much prefer the price."
—[Washington Star.

"How was the ice for your skating party last night?"

"Cracked and served in glasses."—[Buffalo Express.

Odkins—How can you tell that this is going to be a strenuous winter?

Bodkins—That's easy! By the size of my salary.—[Judge.

"Was it a quiet wedding?"

"Decidedly! Both the bride and the groom were so scared they could hardly speak above a whisper."—[Boston Transcript.

Rural Visitor—Now, wouldn't you be better off working on a farm?

Mulcahey—Mebbe so; but now the divil cud I wor-rk on a farm an' live in New York?—[Puck.

Judge—What is your age, madam?

Witness—Twenty-seven and some months.

Judge—I want your exact age, please. How many months?

Witness—One hundred and twenty.—[Boston Transcript.

Young Artist—Well, my dear, I just received $10 for that drawing I made in an hour last night.

His Practical Wife—Oh, Gerald! Do you realize that $10 an hour means $60 a day, or, not counting Sundays, about $20,000 a year?—[Puck.

"She's getting rather plump."

"Yes, but don't you dare tell her so. She nearly sued her husband for a divorce on account of her plumpness."

"Why, he isn't to blame."

"No, but she heard that he was complaining that he had an elephant upon his hands, and she thought he meant her, and he only meant a house he was trying to rent."—[Houston Post.

THE POPE TO RECEIVE BASE BALL PLAYERS.

The American base ball players of the National and American leagues, who have been on a 'round-the-world tour, are expected to reach Rome February 10. They will be received in audience by the Pope and will play an exhibition game at the Stadium, which seats 100,000 spectators.

PERSONALS.

The Sacred Congregation of the Index has decided that all the works of Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian author, shall be classed as forbidden literature to Catholics.

Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Maine, is to receive $500,000 under the will of the late Edwin B. Smith, former assistant United States Attorney General, and well known New York lawyer, who died January 6. Mr. Smith was graduated as a member of the class of 1856.

George A. Hubbell, aged 87, for 61 years an Odd Fellow and probably longer affiliated with that fraternity than any one else in Connecticut, is dead. He had been master mechanic of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad for many years, and before that a pioneer engineer in laying out the Rock Island system.

New York will have an opportunity soon to see the daughters of President Wilson in amateur theatricals. Misses Eleanor and Margaret Wilson will appear February 24 in Percy MacKaye's bird masque, "Sanctuary," at the Hotel Astor. Miss Eleanor Wilson is to be the Bird Spirit and Miss Margaret will sing the prelude. Both took these parts in the masque when it was produced last summer at the Wilson home in Cornish, N. H., and they have achieved success lately in Washington theatricals.

General James Grant Wilson, soldier, editor and author, who had been ill in St. Luke's Hospital, New York, for several weeks, is dead, aged 81 years. Son of William Wilson, a Scotch poet, he was a veteran of the Civil war. Brevetted at its close a brigadier general of volunteers, he laid down the sword and took up the pen. His literary labors produced more than a score of volumes, including a "Life of General U. S. Grant," "Lives of the Presidents of the United States," "Love in Letters" and "Thackeray in the United States." His most important editorial work was on Appleton's Cyclopaedia of American Biography.

EXCLUSIVE ASSOCIATED PRESS SERVICE FOR NEWPORT.

THE NEWS IN PROVIDENCE.

The Daily News is on sale in Providence the evening of publication at Union Station.

AQUIDNECK PARK.

The city should take steps at once for preserving and protecting its new acquisition, Aquidneck park. Now that the fence is down and the ground is soft the grass on the Spring Street bank is being ruined and the whole premises will fall into an undesirable condition unless looked after. The ground should have special police assigned to it and should be well lighted at night. Eventually, if not now, the whole park should be enclosed by an iron fence, with gates at convenient points. It is one thing for a city to accept a gift and quite another to show that it is worthy of it by preserving its beauty. It was given by a King and is a princely gift.

A PROFIT-SHARING SCHEME.

From time to time a new profit-sharing scheme is announced by some corporation, each giving additional evidence of the growing disposition of employers to give their help a sense of common interest. There was a time when labor was thought of only as a present commodity, and was bought as such. It is a commodity now, but there is an increasing disposition to regard it as a commodity for next year and for five years hence, instead of merely for the current week. In other words, there is an increasing disposition by employers to keep their work people about them, to encourage them to stay, and to excite in them an interest beyond that pertaining to the next pay envelope.

The Farr Alpaca Company is one of the most astonishingly prosperous factories. For some time it has been paying dividends of 24 per cent. In spite of this, its managers were alarmed at the prospective reduction of duties and predicted disaster. Evidently they have recovered from their apprehensions or they would not have declared a stock dividend and announced a profit-sharing arrangement. The stock dividend is 200 per cent. For every share he has now a shareholder will have three, and on these he is expected to receive eight per cent dividends, which indicates that the managers believe they will go on making as large profits as they have done hitherto.

For every $100 an employe earns he will receive the same dividend as the holder of one share of stock. If the stock shall pay eight per cent an employe earning $500 a year will have a bonus, or a share of the profits, amounting to $40. It is obvious that all manufacturers do not make profits large enough to inaugurate a system like this, but it is pleasant to see exceptionally successful companies like the Ford Motor Company and the Farr Alpaca Company sharing a part of their unusual prosperity with those who work for them, and who may in a very real sense be regarded as their partners and associates in achieving success.

THE STATE'S CREDIT GOOD.

Two points of interest have been brought out by the popular loans of state bonds made recently by the commissioners. One is that people are eager to avail themselves of the opportunity to invest comparatively small amounts in securities of this sort which are perfectly safe, instead of putting their money into wildcat schemes which promise rich returns but are badly apt to fail to fulfill their promise. The other is that there is a disposition to make large investments and thereby to improve the opportunity afforded through the medium of the bonds, thus indicating that the credit of the state is good, herein standing the fact that the treasury is not always in such a condition as to make it possible to meet immediately all the obligations due. Both facts speak well for the ability of the people to make investments and for the ability of the state to pay its accounts as they come due and together they indicate a financial condition which is distinctly pleasing.

It is particularly gratifying to find that, at a time when the fact is emphasized that the state needs more resources and greater revenue in order to meet all its obligations, the people are confident that its bonds are an investment of the highest value and are willing to trust their money to the state; indeed, are not only willing but eager to do so, as has been shown by both these popular sales, which have been several times over-subscribed. This is a creditable condition, which indicates clearly that, though the general treasurer may be cramped at times to pay the bills of the state as fast as they come due, the people realize that this fact does not indicate financial stringency but only a temporary embarrassment, which is soon relieved as the money due from various resources becomes available. The people and investors evidently know that the credit of the state is good and that there is not the slightest doubt of its ability to meet all its obligations without serious delay.

ROYAL PRINCE AND PRUSSIAN MAJOR.

The Kaiser is reported to be anxious to promote a better feeling in Alsace and Lorraine than was disclosed by the Zabern incident, and to that end is likely to appoint a prince of the royal family to be governor general, instead of a mere count. We presume the French subjects of the German crown will be deeply grateful for his interest in their welfare, but we fear that more harm will be done by a Prussian major than the good which might be accomplished by a Prussian prince.

At Montigny a Prussian lieutenant heard two men speaking French at the festivities in commemoration of the emperor's birthday and ordered them to speak German or leave. As they left, his suspicion that they were conspirators was naturally strengthened. He followed them to a restaurant, where he found their offense doubled; they and two others were talking French. He ordered all four under arrest and a major coming upon the scene ordered them to take their caps off, as they were in the presence of "royal Prussian major."

When the four culprits were arraigned before a police magistrate they were promptly discharged, but this will make trouble, because it discredits the "royal Prussian major" and the corporal and the whole German military establishment. It is putting the civil above the military authority, to which the military caste is bitterly hostile. In the meanwhile the story of persons arrested for speaking French will go through Alsace and Lorraine and through all France, too, and will produce more bitter feeling than two royal princes could allay.

Prussian methods in Poland have kept the Poles an alien and hostile element in the German empire, while our own experience with the South and England's with the Boers should convince Prussian statesmen, if not "royal Prussian majors," that conciliation and fair treatment will merge the defeated with the victorious party after a war and produce a feeling of common nationality which must be more and more remote the longer German army officers are permitted to browbeat civilians.

THE TUBERCULIN TEST BILL.

The tuberculin test bill is before the legislature again, and those who are working especially for its passage feel quite hopeful that they may be successful this year, though they have failed at several successive sessions. The main reason for this hopefulness seems to be the fact that in the senate the measure has been referred to the committee on public health, which is so composed as to give its supporters some ground of faith that it will receive favorable action by that body. The optimistic frame of mind may or may not be justified, but in any event the advocates of the measure will not rest until it is reported favorably and disposed of by the legislature, or they are assured that it is useless to fight further at this session. The friends of the bill have stood by it and for it faithfully in the past and propose to do so as long as there is any hope that it may be passed by both branches of the legislature.

This is the measure which has been so strongly opposed by farmers because the tuberculin test for animals brought into the state would mean expense to those who keep cattle. On the other hand, it has been favored earnestly by those who believe it is the best possible means of preventing the importation and the use here of milk affected with tuberculosis, thus endangering the lives of consumers of milk. The issue thus drawn definitely and clearly is the reason for the fight which has been in progress for a number of years over this measure.

It is to be hoped that the controversy may be ended at the present session of the legislature, as it is not creditable to the state to have the conflict flaunted before the public every year when it is virtually admitted by all who are not likely to be adversely affected financially by the measure, if it is adopted, that it is meritorious and needed in the interest of the public health.

The Department of Justice is not satisfied with the development of the plans for the separation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and its subsidiary transportation lines and the Attorney General has given notice that it is about time the company's plans were brought to hand. While the officials are insisting upon more speed in the work they claim that the department does not intend to drive the New Haven immediately to the market with securities of which it might be difficult to dispose. Nevertheless, the Attorney General thinks the railroad should hurry up a little.

Governor Glynn of New York thinks the United States should take care of the alien insane, and in support of this idea says more than a third of the money spent in the maintenance of New York's hospitals is devoted to the care of foreigners. The 9241 aliens in the state's hospitals, on the basis of an average length of 9.85 years of residence, represent a total burden upon present and future taxpayers of $25,112,000, "a sum that would run the entire executive department of the state for 300 years and would pay all of the state's expenses for seven months." A striking way of putting it.

The great reduction in the mortality from tuberculosis since Dr. Koch in 1882 discovered the germ and better methods prevail in the treatment of the disease is illustrated in statistics recently published by the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis. These show that in Boston in the 32 years from 1850 to 1882 the death rate from that disease decreased only from 47½ to 42, or 5½ points, per 10,000 inhabitants. In the 31 years from 1882 to 1913 it was reduced very rapidly from 42 to 15, or 27 points. Other cities show similar conditions.

There is little politics in the appointments made by Governor Glynn of New York for court of appeals vacancies. William R. Hornblower succeeds Willard Bartlett, who has been elected chief justice; Barton S. Weeks takes the place of Judge James W. Gerard, now ambassador to Germany, and Frederick N. Cordozo is designated to serve as one of the so-called designated judges, to succeed Frank Hiscock, elected an associate justice.

The jury in the New York supreme court was out only 55 minutes before it returned a verdict of guilty against "Curly Joe" Cassidy, former Democratic boss of Queens, and Louis T. Waller, Jr., his lieutenant, who were charged with conspiracy in selling the nomination for the supreme court in 1914 to William Willett, who was convicted a week ago of buying it. Quick work, and good work.

President Wilson still refuses to give his assistance to the woman suffragists, saying again that he cannot recommend anything to Congress which has not received the organic consideration of the Democratic party. The present administration must therefore be considered a government of the Democratic party and not of the entire people of the United States.

Thirty-five firemen were saved in New York Saturday by the application of a pulmotor after they had become overcome by smoke. Many communities are purchasing these inexpensive machines and placing them where they may be called for in emergencies. Newport does not seem to have given thought to this latest device for the saving of life.

CANCER CRUSADE STARTED.

First Warnings of Disease Heeded May Prevent Years of Suffering.

A campaign to educate the public in the treatment of disease has been started by the New York Skin and Cancer Hospital. The first disease to be considered is cancer. With a view to helping to control it a bulletin has been issued, which says:

"In the case of cancer, the patient can help greatly in its discovery. Persons suffering from lumps, mysterious pains and sores should immediately consult competent medical advice. These three symptoms are generally, although not always, nature's warnings of cancer."

It is asserted that many cases reach the hospital every day which are practically beyond relief. If these cases, it is added, had been discovered when the cancerous growth was in its incipiency a simple operation would have relieved the patient and prevented years of suffering.

PORTSMOUTH.

[Regular correspondence of the News.]

Mrs. J. M. Eldredge, superintendent of schools, attended the meeting of superintendents from the different towns in the state in Providence last week.

Miss Kathleen Almy, who has been quite sick, is reported as convalescing.

Mr. Antone Martins is seriously ill with pleurisy, although the symptoms are rather more encouraging.

Miss Marjorie Hicks, who has been visiting her cousin, Mrs Thom, in Washington, is expected home this week.

NEWPORT GAINS BY TAX.

Rhode Island Successful in Modernizing the New System.

[Boston Transcript.]

A years ago the Transcript called attention to the remarkable success Rhode Island had achieved in remodelling her tax laws. In 1912, at a single stroke, that state succeeded in creating a new system of corporation taxes improving the assessment of real estate and tangible personalty, and introducing a four-mill tax upon intangible property which yielded gratifying results even in the first year of its operation. Although the new law could not be expected to demonstrate its full possibilities at the very outset, its first fruits were exceedingly good; and we ventured the opinion that Rhode Island had devised a system of taxation that promised well for the future.

The results of the second assessment under the law of 1912 have recently been published, and they confirm our prediction. Business conditions in 1913 did not make for high values, either of securities or of other kinds of property; but nevertheless the yield of the new taxes on corporations increased three per cent. Local real estate assessments increased four per cent; assessments of tangible personalty rose nearly five per cent; and, most important of all, assessments of intangible property advanced 19 per cent. In some places slight decreases were recorded, but the general rule was increased all along the line, especially in the assessment of intangible property.

In the first year of its operation the four-mill tax on intangibles was not popular in Newport, and the assessors made little effort to enforce it. In 1913, however, the attitude of these officials changed and the assessment of intangibles was nearly doubled, with the result that the tax rate was reduced from $13.60 to $12.80. Providence recorded an increase of substantial amount; but that city had done very well in 1912, and therefore the relative gain in 1913 was not as great as in Newport. In general the working of the four-mill tax has depended wholly upon the attitude of the local assessors, since the state tax commission has only advisory power in the premises. Some towns and cities still seem reluctant to enforce the tax but such an example as Newport furnished this year ought to prove contagious.

The last report of the United States commissioner of corporations accords high praise to the Rhode Island tax act of 1912, and shows that Rhode Island and Wisconsin have accomplished more than any other states in the direction of modernizing their systems of taxation.

OVER A CENTURY OLD.

Mrs. M'Gary of South Scituate Reaches One Hundred and Third Year.

Mrs. Elizabeth P. McGary, one of the oldest residents in the state, observed her one hundred and third birthday Monday at her home, "Glen Esho Farm," South Scituate. As usual, relatives and friends called to shower their congratulations. Though confined to her room because of feebleness, Mrs. McGary is in excellent health for one of her years and her mind remains active and clear.

Born February 2, 1811, at Barnstable, Mass., the daughter of Captain John Gasper Kellar, a Cape Cod seaman, Mrs. McGary's memory takes her back before the railroad, steamship, telephone, telegraph and many other modern institutions which are now generally regarded as necessities in our daily life.

Even at her advanced age she retains all her faculties, except hearing, and is able to recall many historic events in the distant past, especially those connected with the turbulent days which preceded the Civil war.

Her early childhood was spent on Cape Cod and in Providence. She received her education in Providence and at an early age developed considerable talent for music and the English language. While still in her teens she took up teaching in a young women's seminary, at the same time contributing articles to the Ladies' Repository and other publications of that day.

After teaching for a few years she went south where she was married to James P. McGary, a member of the East Indian commission merchant firm of McCrae & Sons. The couple made their home on the McGary plantation near Wilmington, N. C., and it was there that Mrs. McGary's three daughters were born.

Seven years after their marriage Mr. McGary died, but his widow continued to live in the South until the negro insurrection broke out just before the Civil war and the family was obliged to flee for safety. Coming North, Mrs. McGary settled in Providence for a time, where she was active in the Beneficent Congregational Church, and even to this day retains an interest in the work.

About 32 years ago, tiring of the confinements of city life and longing for the freedom of the country, she purchased the farm belonging to Judge Titus in Scituate, re-naming the estate "Glen Echo Farm." She has made the place her home ever since.

Mrs. McGary's three daughters are Miss M. E. McGary, who lives with her mother on the farm; Mrs. Jean Paul Selinger of Boston, and Mrs. George Thurber Brown of Providence.

THE NEW EXPRESS RATES.

Material Reductions to Some Cities, While Others Are Advanced.

The new express rates went into effect Sunday, and in many cases those who ship goods away—and there is more of this than many think—find the rates materially reduced; in other cases they find an increase. There was a wide variance in cost of shipment, due to many causes, and distance did not always count. For instance, it cost more to send a certain package to Lynn, just outside Boston, than to send the same package to Washington. These matters have been adjusted more after the style of the parcel post, distance counting more than it did. This means also that some cities which enjoyed very low express rates have been materially advanced.

Those most interested in express rates in Newport are W. H. Easton & Co., who ship sausages all over this section of the country, and Carl H. Jurgens, who sends flowers to as many or more places.

AQUIDNECK PARK.

The city should take steps at once for preserving and protecting its new acquisition, Aquidneck park. Now that the fence is down and the ground is soft the grass on the Spring Street bank is being ruined and the whole premises will fall into an undesirable condition unless looked after. The ground should have special police assigned to it and should be well lighted at night. Eventually, if not now, the whole park should be enclosed by an iron fence, with gates at convenient points. It is one thing for a city to accept a gift and quite another to show that it is worthy of it by preserving its beauty. It was given by a King and is a princely gift.

A PROFIT-SHARING SCHEME.

From time to time a new profit-sharing scheme is announced by some corporation, each giving additional evidence of the growing disposition of employers to give their help a sense of common interest. There was a time when labor was thought of only as a present commodity, and was bought as such. It is a commodity now, but there is an increasing disposition to regard it as a commodity for next year and for five years hence, instead of merely for the current week. In other words, there is an increasing disposition by employers to keep their work people about them, to encourage them to stay, and to excite in them an interest beyond that pertaining to the next pay envelope.

The Farr Alpaca Company is one of the most astonishingly prosperous factories. For some time it has been paying dividends of 24 per cent. In spite of this, its managers were alarmed at the prospective reduction of duties and predicted disaster. Evidently they have recovered from their apprehensions or they would not have declared a stock dividend and announced a profit-sharing arrangement. The stock dividend is 200 per cent. For every share he has now a shareholder will have three, and on these he is expected to receive eight per cent dividends, which indicates that the managers believe they will go on making as large profits as they have done hitherto.

For every $100 an employe earns he will receive the same dividend as the holder of one share of stock. If the stock shall pay eight per cent an employe earning $500 a year will have a bonus, or a share of the profits, amounting to $40. It is obvious that all manufacturers do not make profits large enough to inaugurate a system like this, but it is pleasant to see exceptionally successful companies like the Ford Motor Company and the Farr Alpaca Company sharing a part of their unusual prosperity with those who work for them, and who may in a very real sense be regarded as their partners and associates in achieving the success.

THE STATE'S CREDIT GOOD.

Two points of interest have been brought out by the popular loans of state bonds made recently by the general treasurer. One is that people are eager to avail themselves of the opportunity to invest comparatively small amounts in securities of this sort, which are perfectly safe, instead of putting their money into wildcat schemes which promise rich returns but are likely to fail to fulfill that promise. The other is that those in a position to make large investments are also ready to improve the opportunity afforded through the medium of these bonds, thus indicating that the credit of the state is good, notwithstanding the fact that the treasury is not always in such a condition as to make it possible to meet immediately all the obligations due. Both facts speak well for the ability of the people to make investments and for the ability of the state to pay its accounts as they come due, and together they indicate a financial condition which is distinctly pleasing.

It is particularly gratifying to find that, at a time when the fact is emphasized that the state needs more resources and greater revenue in order to meet all its obligations, the people are confident that its bonds are an investment of the highest value and are willing to trust their money to the state; indeed, are not only willing but eager to do so, as has been shown by both these popular sales, which have been several times over-subscribed. This is a creditable condition, which indicates clearly that, though the general treasurer may be cramped at times to pay the bills of the state as fast as they come due, the people realize that this fact does not indicate financial stringency but only a temporary embarrassment, which is soon relieved as the money due from various resources becomes available. The people and investors evidently know that the credit of the state is good and that there is not the slightest doubt of its ability to meet all its obligations without serious delay.

ROYAL PRINCE AND PRUSSIAN MAJOR.

The Kaiser is reported to be anxious to promote a better feeling in Alsace and Lorraine than was disclosed by the Zabern incident, and to that end is likely to appoint a prince of the royal family to be governor general, instead of a mere count. We presume the French subjects of the German crown will be deeply grateful for his interest in their welfare, but we fear that more harm will be done by a Prussian major than the good which might be accomplished by a Prussian prince.

At Montigny a Prussian lieutenant heard two men speaking French at the festivities in commemoration of the emperor's birthday and ordered them to speak German or leave. As they left, his suspicion that they were conspirators was naturally strengthened. He followed them to a restaurant, where he found their offense doubled; they and two others were talking French. He ordered all four under arrest and a major coming upon the scene ordered them to take their caps off, as they were in the presence of "royal Prussian major."

When the four culprits were arraigned before a police magistrate they were promptly discharged, but this will make trouble, because it discredits the "royal Prussian major" and the herr lieutenant and the whole German military establishment. It is putting the civil above the military authority, to which the military caste is bitterly hostile. In the meanwhile the story of persons arrested for speaking French will go through Alsace and Lorraine and through all France, too, and will produce more bitter feeling than two royal princes could allay.

Prussian methods in Poland have kept the Poles an alien and hostile element in the German empire, while our own experience with the South and England's with the Boers should convince Prussian statesmen, if not "royal Prussian majors," that conciliation and fair treatment will merge the defeated with the victorious party after a war and produce a feeling of common nationality which must be more and more remote the longer German army officers are permitted to browbeat civilians.

THE TUBERCULIN TEST BILL.

The tuberculin test bill is before the legislature again, and those who are working especially for its passage feel quite hopeful that they may be successful this year, though they have failed at several successive sessions. The main reason for this hopefulness seems to be the fact that in the senate the measure has been referred to the committee on public health, which is so composed as to give its supporters some ground of faith that it will receive favorable action by that body. The optimistic frame of mind may or may not be justified, but in any event the advocates of the measure will not rest until it is reported favorably and disposed of by the legislature, or they are assured that it is useless to fight further at this session. The friends of the bill have stood by it and for it faithfully in the past and propose to do so as long as there is any hope that it may be passed by both branches of the legislature.

This is the measure which has been so strongly opposed by farmers because the tuberculin test for animals brought into the state would mean expense to those who keep cattle. On the other hand, it has been favored earnestly by those who believe it is the best possible means of preventing the importation and the use here of cattle affected with tuberculosis, thus endangering the lives of consumers of milk. The issue thus drawn definitely and clearly is the reason for the fight which has been in progress for a number of years over this measure.

It is to be hoped that the controversy may be ended at the present session of the legislature, as it is not creditable to the state to have this conflict flaunted before the public every year, when it is virtually admitted by all who are not likely to be adversely affected financially by the measure, if it is adopted, that it is meritorious and needed in the interest of the public health.

The Department of Justice is not satisfied with the development of the plans for the separation of the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad and its subsidiary transportation lines and the Attorney General has given notice that it is about time the company's plans were brought to light. While the officials are insisting upon more speed in the work, they claim that the department does not intend to drive the New Haven immediately to the market with securities of which it might be difficult to dispose. Nevertheless, the Attorney General thinks the railroad should hurry up a little.

Governor Glynn of New York thinks the United States should take care of the alien insane, and in support of this idea says more than a third of the money spent in the maintenance of New York's hospitals is devoted to the care of foreigners. The 9241 aliens in the state's hospitals, on the basis of an average length of 9.85 years of residence, represent a total burden upon present and future taxpayers of $25,412,000, "a sum that would run the entire executive department of the state for 300 years and would pay all of the state's expenses for seven months." A striking way of putting it.

The great reduction in the mortality from tuberculosis since Dr. Koch in 1882 discovered the germ and better methods prevail in the treatment of the disease is illustrated in statistics recently published by the Boston Association for the Relief and Control of Tuberculosis. These show that in Boston in the 32 years from 1850 to 1882 the death rate from that disease decreased only from 47½ to 42, or 5½ points, per 10,000 inhabitants. In the 31 years from 1882 to 1913 it was reduced very rapidly from 42 to 15, or 27 points. Other cities show similar conditions.

There is little politics in the appointments made by Governor Glynn of New York for court of appeals vacancies. William R. Hornblower succeeds Willard Bartlett, who has been elected chief justice; Barton S. Weeks takes the place of Judge James W. Gerard, now ambassador to Germany, and Frederick N. Cordozo is designated to serve as one of the so-called designated judges, to succeed Frank Hiscock, elected an associate justice.

The jury in the New York supreme court was out only 55 minutes before it returned a verdict of guilty against "Curly Joe" Cassidy, former Democratic boss of Queens, and Louis T. Waller, Jr., his lieutenant, who were charged with conspiracy in selling the nomination for the supreme court in 1911 to William Willett, who was convicted a week ago of buying it. Quick work, and good work.

President Wilson still refuses to give his assistance to the woman suffragists, saying again that he cannot recommend anything to Congress which has not received the organic consideration of the Democratic party. The present administration must therefore be considered a government of the Democratic party and not of the entire people of the United States.

Thirty-five firemen were saved in New York Saturday by the application of a pulmotor after they had become overcome by smoke. Many communities are purchasing these inexpensive machines and placing them where they may be called for in emergencies. Newport does not seem to have given thought to this latest device for the saving of life.

CANCER CRUSADE STARTED.

First Warnings of Disease Heeded May Prevent Years of Suffering.

A campaign to educate the public in the treatment of disease has been started by the New York Skin and Cancer Hospital. The first disease to be considered is cancer. With a view to helping to control it a bulletin has been issued which says:

"In the case of cancer, the patient can help greatly in its discovery. Persons suffering from lumps, mysterious pains and sores should immediately consult competent medical advice. These three symptoms are generally, although not always, nature's warnings of cancer."

It is asserted that many cases reach the hospital every day which are practically beyond relief. If these cases, it is added, had been discovered when the cancerous growth was in its incipiency a simple operation would have relieved the patient and prevented years of suffering.

NEWPORT GAINS BY TAX.

Rhode Island Successful in Modernizing the New System.

[Boston Transcript.]

A years ago the Transcript called attention to the remarkable success Rhode Island had achieved in remodelling her tax laws. In 1912, at a single stroke, that state succeeded in creating a new system of corporation taxes improving the assessment of real estate and tangible personalty, and introducing a four-mill tax upon intangible property which yielded gratifying results even in the first year of its operation. Although the new law could not be expected to demonstrate its full possibilities at the very outset, its first fruits were exceedingly good; and we ventured the opinion that Rhode Island had devised a system of taxation that promised well for the future.

The results of the second assessment under the law of 1912 have recently been published, and they confirm our prediction. Business conditions in 1913 did not make for high values, either of securities or of other kinds of property; but nevertheless the yield of the new taxes on corporations increased three per cent. Local real estate assessments increased four per cent; assessments of tangible personalty rose nearly five per cent; and, most important of all, assessments of intangible property advanced 19 per cent. In some places slight decreases were recorded, but the general rule was increased all along the line, especially in the assessment of intangible property.

In the first year of its operation the four-mill tax on intangibles was not popular in Newport, and the assessors made little effort to enforce it. In 1913, however, the attitude of these officials changed and the assessment of intangibles was nearly doubled, with the result that the tax rate was reduced from $13.60 to $12.80. Providence recorded an increase of substantial amount; but that city had done very well in 1912, and therefore the relative gain in 1913 was not as great as in Newport. In general the working of the four-mill tax has depended wholly upon the attitude of the local assessors, since the state tax commission has only advisory power in the premises. Some towns and cities still seem reluctant to enforce the tax but such an example as Newport furnished this year ought to prove contagious.

The last report of the United States commissioner of corporations accords high praise to the Rhode Island tax act of 1912, and shows that Rhode Island and Wisconsin have accomplished more than any other states in the direction of modernizing their systems of taxation.

OVER A CENTURY OLD.

Mrs. M'Gary of South Scituate Reaches One Hundred and Third Year.

Mrs. Elizabeth P. McGary, one of the oldest residents in the state, observed her one hundred and third birthday Monday at her home, "Glen Esho Farm," South Scituate. As usual, relatives and friends called to shower their congratulations. Though confined to her room because of feebleness, Mrs. McGary is in excellent health for one of her years and her mind remains active and clear.

Born February 2, 1811, at Barnstable, Mass., the daughter of Captain John Gasper Kellar, a Cape Cod seaman, Mrs. McGary's memory takes her back before the railroad, steamship, telephone, telegraph and many other modern institutions which are now generally regarded as necessities in our daily life.

Even at her advanced age she retains all her faculties, except hearing, and is able to recall many historic events in the distant past, especially those connected with the turbulent days which preceded the Civil war.

Her early childhood was spent on Cape Cod and in Providence. She received her education in Providence and at an early age developed considerable talent for music and the English language. While still in her teens she took up teaching in a young women's seminary at the same time contributing articles to the Ladies' Repository and other publications of that day.

After teaching for a few years she went south where she was married to James P. McGary, a member of the East Indian commission merchant firm of McCrae & Sons. The couple made their home on the McGary plantation near Wilmington, N. C., and it was there that Mrs. McGary's three daughters were born.

Seven years after their marriage Mr. McGary died, but his widow continued to live in the South until the negro insurrection broke out just before the Civil war and the family was obliged to flee for safety. Coming North, Mrs. McGary settled in Providence for a time, where she was active in the Beneficent Congregational Church, and even to this day retains an interest in the work.

About 32 years ago, tiring of the confinements of city life and longing for the freedom of the country, she purchased the farm belonging to Judge Titus in Scituate, re-naming the estate "Glen Echo Farm." She has made the place her home ever since.

Mrs. McGary's three daughters are Miss M. E. McGary, who lives with her mother on the farm; Mrs. Jean Paul Selinger of Boston, and Mrs. George Thurber Brown of Providence.

THE NEW EXPRESS RATES.

Material Reductions to Some Cities, While Others Are Advanced.

The new express rates went into effect Sunday, and in many cases those who ship goods away—and there is more of this than many think—find the rates materially reduced; in other cases they find an increase. There was a wide variance in cost of shipment, due to many causes, and distance did not always count. For instance, it cost more to send a certain package to Lynn, just outside Boston, than to send the same package to Washington. These matters have been adjusted more after the style of the parcel post, distance counting more than it did. This means also that some cities which enjoyed very low express rates have been materially advanced.

Those most interested in express rates in Newport are W. H. Easton & Co., who ship sausages all over this section of the country, and Carl H. Jurgens, who sends flowers to as many or more places.

MANY MEN ATTRACTED.

Enlisted Strength of the Navy Reaches Number Allowed by Law.

For the first time since the Civil war the enlisted strength of the navy is allowed by law, 51,500, has been reached. Secretary of the Navy Daniels attributes the heavy enlistments for the service during the past six months largely to his educational policy, which has made the service attractive to young men. He says also that the advertising given by the Mediterranean cruise and the prospect of increased trips to the Pacific shores after the opening of the Panama canal have attracted many men to the service.

While the navy is maintaining the excellent record in enlistments the navy is finding considerable difficulty in, it is said, to the unfavorable retirement contract now offered in the service. Legislation is now being sought to change the form of contract.

THIS AFTERNOON'S FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary E., wife of Henry C. Barker, took place this afternoon, the service being held in the First Methodist Episcopal Church and conducted by Rev. Joseph Cooper, the pastor. The interment was in the City cemetery, the bearers being William C. and Isaac J. Barker, 2d., sons, and Edward J. and Fernando Barker, brothers-in-law of the deceased. A number of policemen, members of the force to which Officer W. C. Barker is attached, were in attendance.

Later the funeral of Mrs. Sarah E., wife of Oliver H. King, was held from the late residence on Farewell street, by the late George Vernon Dickey, rector of St. George's Church officiating, assisted by Rev. Emery H. Porter, D. D., rector of Emmanuel. The interment was in the Old cemetery, the bearers being James O. King, William H. King, George T. King, Edward D. Tanner, Charles A. Ackers and Henry G. Ridley.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs William Safford Jones has gone to New York for two weeks.

The sailors of auxiliary yacht A 1 are beginning to make the outer hull ready for her coming trip south.

—Mr. Joseph Graham has returned from Washington, where he was in connection with the furnishing of The New Richmond, Mr. Jordan's new hotel.

—Mrs. Francis W. Duryea, who has been guest of Mrs. J. R. Morrison at the Naval Training Station, returned Monday to her home in Dedham, Mass.

—DeBlois & Eldridge have rented the A. L. Audrain office rooms on the second floor in his building on Bellevue avenue to Jeanne Dimolow of New York for the season.

The Newport Humane Club and the Walter Lowrie Club have gone on record as favoring the passage of the new Providence milk act. The new law is like Newport's so far as it places the distribution of milk in the charge of the health authorities.

—The sub-committee on widening Thames street, Councilmen Voigt and Landers, were seen today doing some amateur surveying on the section which they are talking of widening. An official report will be made later; they were too busy today "to" make an unofficial one.

George A. Coggeshall, M. D., whose death occurred recently at his home in Oxford, N. C., was a native of Portsmouth, a son of the late Alexander and Sarah G. Coggeshall. For a number of years he had been one of the leading physicians in that place. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

While complaint is heard here as to there as to the character of the moving pictures shown, this does not seem to reduce the weekly tribute which Newport makes to this way of passing time It is estimated that $1,000 a week is spent on admissions to the three theatres.

—Many little friends called on Miss Dorothy Lewis at her home on Third street Monday evening, in honor of her tenth birthday. Many presents were received, games were played and prizes won by Edna Vars Edith Lawton, Edmund Vars and Mildred Hollister. Refreshments was served.

A still alarm was sent in at 9:47 this morning for a fire among clothes in the kitchen of the house occupied by Mrs William Wood on La Salle place. The clothes were behind the kitchen stove and the fire was confined to them. The house is owned by Mr. Edward N. Lawton. Combination 1 and Hose 3 responded.

—Manager Johnson of the Crescent basket ball team states that there must be some mistake about the report in the Bristol Phoenix of the defeat of the Crescents by the Bristol Young Men's Christian Association team last Thursday. His team has not played in Bristol since January 15, when it won from the Bristol boys, 42 to 16.

—Last December Judge Brown sat in Newport, listening to evidence in the so-called Sachuest Point case. Three or four days were consumed and many witnesses were heard, but the lawyers were not then prepared to close the case and it was postponed to some convenient time for completion in Providence. This time did not arrive until Saturday, and in due time Judge Brown will render his decision.

—A member of the Representative Council who made a trip to the Training Station in his machine last week knows why there is a demand for improvements to Third street. He found conditions there impracticable for use by pedestrians unless shod in rubber boots. He saw men trying to come from the Station by walking on fences and residents of the locality unable to reach the cars without going over their rubbers in mud.

—The local fishermen are still doing well with cod. The latest report from Tallman & Mack is Captain Munson 3,800 pounds, Captain Kent 3,500, Will Luth 1,600 Peter Goodie 1,500, Champion Brothers 600, J. Driscoll 1,200, C. B. Anderson reports Malcolm Peterson, of the Thomas B. Reardon, 2,100; the T. W. Larson 460, Captain Jim Kelley 2,000 and Captain Dan 1,300. They are all out today, and so are the smaller Greek boats.

After 33 years of service as a professor of Columbia University, Seth Low of the class of 1878, has submitted his resignation, to take effect June 30 next. From 1890 to 1901 Mr. Low was president of the university, resigning when elected mayor of New York. Mr. Charles Frederick Hoffman of the class of 1878, and a well known summer resident, was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy that has since the resignation of the late Mr. Mervin Vincent last May.

REASONABLE CHARGES FOR FREE SERVICES.

Interstate Commission to Hold Hearing on the Question.

Work Now Done Without Pay Costs Railroads Heavily.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Another new development was thrown today into the freight rate case before the Interstate Commerce Commission, in which the 52 Eastern railroads are seeking to advance their charges five per cent, when Commissioner Harlan announced that the commission intended to hold supplementary hearings on the question of fixing reasonable charges for free service which railroad systems now perform for large industrial plants. The recent decision in the industrial railways case indicated that such free services to so-called trusts not only cost the railroad systems about $15,000,000 a year, but discriminate against smaller industries.

Commissioner Harlan, in a formal statement, pointed out that the evidence so far submitted tended to show a diminishing net revenue and a diminishing net income" for the railroads. The new rates proposed by the roads, he said, propose advances ranging from three to 50 per cent. Increased rates probably would afford additional revenues. "The commission, however, has set for itself a broader inquiry in the proceeding," said he. "If the revenues are shown to be inadequate, what general course may carriers pursue to meet the situation?"

After reviewing the free services disclosed in the recent decision and the cost to the railroads the commissioner concluded by saying, "The propriety of discontinuing the performance of these special services without charge is manifestly a matter that should receive immediate consideration. It must not be understood that I am announcing any definite views for the commission on this question of free services; what I have said is simply a point of view on which the commission desires light. What I intend to make clear is that the commission must necessarily look at the case from all points of view, in order that we may be in a position to indicate what course, in justice to the general shipping public as well as to themselves, the carriers may pursue to meet the situation should additional revenues be needed."

Pennsylvania Road Discriminates on Rates in Favor of Two Companies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Discrimination by the Pennsylvania railroad on rates on bituminous coal in favor of the Keystone Coal and Coke Company and the Jamison Coal and Coke Company, both of the Greensburg district, as against the Pittsburgh Coal Company, was charged today by H. P. McCue, traffic manager of the latter company, before the Interstate Commerce Commission. He was testifying in the hearing on the proposed 5 per cent advance rate by all railroads in eastern classification territory. Mr. McCue declared that the rates on coal moving West were so arranged that the Keystone and Jamison companies received the benefit of through rates, whereas on bituminous coal moving east the Pittsburgh Coal Company was cut out from similar benefit by a line which the company had drawn between the Greensburg and the Pittsburg fields.

He rode with the mail clerks, shared his luncheon with them, and arrived here in good condition.

CIVIL CASE OF INTEREST.

Judge Baker Decides for Defendant as to Nursing Arrangements.

Judge Baker held the first of the set sessions of the district court this morning and was warmly greeted by the members of the bar. He was soon in medias res, trying a civil case of some interest because the name of Mrs French Vanderbilt was mentioned.

Some time in the summer her automobile struck a lad named Edward J. Connell, whose mother resides on John street. Dr Butler was called and was of course paid for his services by Mrs Vanderbilt, who visited the child after the accident and gave instructions to have him properly cared for.

The mother claims that at the time, instead of employing a nurse, it was arranged to have her care for the child and as this necessitated giving up work elsewhere Dr. Butler was to charge for her services as a nurse, in his bill She claimed that her bill was $44 but that later Dr. Butler stated that he had put it in for $42. She sued him for $12. He denied all her statements about the nursing arrangements and stated that the bill to Mrs. Vanderbilt was for his services and those of Dr. Sullivan, who was called in consultation, and had, nothing to do with any nursing. His bill was $167 and that of Dr. Sullivan $30.

The decision was for defendant, the court holding that plaintiff had not shown that such an arrangement for the nursing bill had been made, it being her testimony against Dr. Butler's.

WHY A SPECIAL ELECTION?

Is it to Dodge Responsibility for the Charter Change Mistake?

To the Editor of The News:

It is plainly evident to all that the present proposed changes in the city charter are clearly in the interests of what we remember (and most unfavorably) as "The Old Combine."

If the schemers who were instrumental in framing the amendments recently introduced in the General Assembly by the representative from the First district now find that public sentiment is against their proposed changes, if they are good sports will don't they acknowledge their mistake and have the judiciary committee immediately report unfavorably upon the bill, instead of trying to dodge the responsibility of their error by advocating the unnecessary, troublesome and expensive operation of submitting the question to a special election?

PREPARING FOR WORK.

Committee of Twenty-Five May Start on Business This Week.

While only one of the sub-committees of the Committee of Twenty-Five has so far reported, Chairman Congdon hopes to be able to have a meeting this week, Thursday or Friday evening, with enough business reported to give the committee something on which to start. He is anxious to begin the consideration of the various items and there are a number of matters which probably are ready.

At the meeting of the committee on streets and street lights Monday evening, a representative of the Cleveland Vapor Light Company, the contractors for the present gas lights showed pictures of ornamental poles which his company is prepared to put up in case it receives the contract for another period. The price for the illumination of Thames street was not received, and it is understood that it will take some weeks to prepare it, for there is to be considered the matter of laying a conduit in the street for the underground feed wires, these lamps being lighted from conduits.

The committee on health met the Newport Hospital trustees at the hospital Monday evening and talked over the contract for caring for contagious cases sent by the Board of Health.

PLANNING FOR PLAYGROUNDS

There was a meeting Monday afternoon of some of those interested in playgrounds, to talk over what should be done at the present time to prepare for the proper use of the grounds the coming season. A bill is now before the legislature, in accordance with the vote of the Council last year, for a playground commission, and it was felt that if it were adopted some action should be taken to bring to the Council the need of a supervisor of the work on the playgrounds, in accordance with suggestions made last year by a representative of the general playgrounds and playfields committee.

WHIRLWINDS IN SAFE LEAD.

Window Jump Counts Heavily in Points of Winning Team.

By winning 32½ points Monday evening in the Recreation League at the Young Men's Christian Association the Whirlwinds further increased their lead over the Monsoons, who are still in second place. The Cyclones again dropped to last place, which has been held by the Tornadoes for more than a month. The standing finds the Whirlwinds safely entrenched in first place with 169½ points, the Monsoons being second with 130, the Hurricanes third with 117½, the Hornadoes fifth with 81½, while the Cyclones are last with 74½.

An arrangement called the window jump, tried for the first time in the Recreation League, counted heavily for the winning team, which secured 10 points, the second team winning eight points, the third six, and so on. After each jump the square is lessened, the purpose being to jump through the least possible area. Maycock of the Whirlwinds and Holmes of the Cyclones were the ones to jump through the smallest area, and accordingly divided first place. The summary of the event follows: Whirlwinds 177½, Monsoons 172½, Tornadoes 132½, Hurricanes 108, Cyclones 76.

In the tugs of war the Whirlwinds defeated the Cyclones, the Tornadoes beat the Monsoons the Whirlwinds beat the Monsoons, the Hurricanes beat the Cyclones and the Hurricanes also beat the Tornadoes.

MANY MEN ATTRACTED.

Enlisted Strength of the Navy Reaches Number Allowed by Law.

For the first time since the Civil war the enlisted strength of the navy allowed by law, 51,500, has been filled. Secretary of the Navy Daniels attributes the heavy enlistments for the service during the past six months chiefly to his educational policy, which makes the service attractive to young men. He says also that the advertising given by the Mediterranean cruise and the prospect of increased trips to Pacific shores after the opening of the Panama canal have attracted many men to the service.

While the navy is maintaining the excellent record in enlistments the army is finding considerable difficulty, it is said, to the unfavorable enlistment contract now offered by that service. Legislation is now being sought to change the form of contract.

A number of policemen, members of the watch to which Officer W. C. Barker is attached, were in attendance.

Later the funeral of Mrs. Sarah E., wife of Oliver H. King, was held from her late residence on Farewell street, Rev. George Vernon Dickey, rector of St. George's Church officiating, assisted by Rev. Emery H. Porter, D. D., rector of Emmanuel. The interment was in the Old cemetery, the bearers being James O. King, William H. King, George T. King, Edward D. Thayer, Charles A. Ackers and Henry G. LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mrs. William Safford Jones has gone to New York for two weeks.

—The sailors of auxiliary yacht Alicia are beginning to make the outer hull ready for her coming trip south.

—Mr. Joseph Graham has returned from Washington, where he was in connection with the furnishing of The New Richmond, Mr. Jordan's new hotel.

—Mrs. Francis W. Durves, who has been guest of Mrs. J. R. Morrison at the Naval Training Station, returned Monday to her home in Dedham, Mass.

—DeBlois & Eldridge have rented for A. L. Audrain office rooms on the second floor in his building on Bellevue avenue to Jeanne Dimelow of New York for the season.

—The Newport Humane Club and the Walter Lowrie Club have gone on record as favoring the passage of the new Providence milk act. The new law is like Newport's so far as it places the distribution of milk in the charge of the health authorities.

—The sub-committee on widening Thames street, Councilmen Voigt and Landers, were seen today doing some amateur surveying on the section which they are talking of widening. An official report will be made later; they were too busy today to tell make such an unofficial one.

—George A. Coggeshall, M. D., whose death occurred recently at his home in Oxford, N. C., was a native of Portsmouth, a son of the late Albert and Sarah G. Coggeshall. For a number of years he had been one of the leading physicians in that place. He leaves a widow and one daughter.

—While complaint is heard here as elsewhere as to the character of the motion pictures shown, this does not seem to reduce the weekly tribute which Newport makes to this way of passing time It is estimated that $1500 a week is spent on admissions to the three theatres.

—Many little friends called on Miss Dorothy Lewis at her home on Third street Monday evening, in honor of her tenth birthday. Many presents were received, games were played and prizes won by Edna Vars, Edith Lawton, Edmund Vars and Mildred Scheller. Refreshments was served.

—A still alarm was sent in at 2:47 this morning for a fire among clothes in the kitchen of the house occupied by Mrs William Wood on La Salle place. The clothes were behind the kitchen stove and the fire was confined to them. The house is owned by Mr. Edward N. Lawton. Combination 1 and Hose 2 responded.

—Manager Johnson of the Crescent basket ball team states that there must be some mistake about the report in the Bristol Phoenix of the defeat of the Crescents by the Bristol Young Men's Christian Association team last Thursday. His team has not played in Bristol since January 15, when it won from the Bristol boys, 52 to 16.

—Last December Judge Brown sat in Newport, listening to evidence in the so-called Sachuest Point case. Three or four days were consumed and many witnesses were heard, but the lawyers were not then prepared to close the case and it was postponed to some convenient time for completion in Providence. This time did not arrive until Saturday, and in due time Judge Brown will render his decision.

—A member of the Representative Council who made a trip to the Training Station in his machine last week knows why there is a demand for improvements to Third street. He found conditions there impracticable for use by pedestrians unless shod in rubber boots. He saw men trying to come from the Station by walking on fences and residents of the locality unable to reach the cars without going over their rubbers in mud.

—The local fishermen are still doing well with cod. The latest report from Tallman & Mack is Captain Mosen 3,800 pounds, Captain Kent 1,800, Will Loch 1,500, Peter Goodie 1,700, Champion Brothers 600, J. Driscoll 1,200, C. B. Anderson reports Captain Peterson, of the Thomas B. Congdon, 2,100; the T. W. Larson 450, Captain Jim Kelley 2,000 and Captain Hord 1,300. They are all out today, and so are the smaller Greek boats.

—After 53 years of service as a trustee of Columbia University, Seth Low of the class of 1878, has submitted his resignation, to take effect June 30 next. From 1899 to 1901 Mr. Low was president of the university, resigning when elected mayor of New York. Mr. Charles Frederick Hoffman of the class of 1878, and a well known summer resident, was elected a trustee to fill the vacancy existing since the resignation of the late Dr. Mervin Vincent last May.

REASONABLE CHARGES FOR FREE SERVICES.

Interstate Commission to Hold Hearing on the Question.

Work Now Done Without Pay Costs Railroads Heavily.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Another new development was thrown today into the freight rate case before the Interstate Commerce Commission, in which the 52 Eastern railroads are seeking to advance their charges five per cent, when Commissioner Harlan announced that the commission intended to hold supplementary hearings on the question of fixing reasonable charges for free service which railroad systems now perform for large industrial plants. The recent decision in the industrial railways case indicated that such free services to so-called trusts not only cost the railroad systems about $15,000,000 a year, but discriminate against smaller industries.

Commissioner Harlan, in a formal statement, pointed out that the evidence so far submitted tended to show "a diminishing net revenue and a diminishing net income" for the railroads. The new rates proposed by the roads, he said, propose advances ranging from three to 50 per cent. Increased rates probably would afford additional revenues. "The commission, however, has set for itself a broader inquiry in the proceeding," said he. "If the revenues are shown to be inadequate, what general course may carriers pursue to meet the situation?"

After reviewing the free services disclosed in the recent decision and the cost to the railroads the commissioner concluded by saying: "The propriety of discontinuing the performance of these special services without charge is manifestly a matter that should receive immediate consideration. It must not be understood that I am announcing any definite views for the commission on this question of free services; what I have said is simply a point of view on which the commission desires light. What I intend to make clear is that the commission must necessarily look at the case from all points of view, in order that we may be in a position to indicate what course, in justice to the general shipping public as well as to themselves, the carriers may pursue to meet the situation should additional revenues be needed."

Pennsylvania Road Discriminates on Rates in Favor of Two Companies.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Discrimination by the Pennsylvania railroad on rates on bituminous coal in favor of the Keystone Coal and Coke Company and the Jamison Coal and Coke Company, both of the Greensburg district, as against the Pittsburgh Coal Company, was charged today by H. P. McCue, traffic manager of the latter company, before the Interstate Commerce Commission. He was testifying in the hearing on the proposed 5 per cent advance rate by all railroads in eastern classification territory. Mr. McCue declared that the rates on coal moving West were so arranged that the Keystone and Jamison companies received the benefit of through rates, whereas on bituminous coal moving east the Pittsburgh Coal Company was cut off from similar benefit by a line which the company had drawn between the Greensburg and the Pittsburg fields.

CIVIL CASE OF INTEREST.

Judge Baker Decides for Defendant as to Nursing Arrangements.

Judge Baker held the first of the set sessions of the district court this morning and was warmly greeted by the members of the bar. He was soon in medias res, trying a civil case of some interest because the name of Mrs. French Vanderbilt was mentioned.

Some time in the summer her automobile struck a lad named Edward J. Connell, whose mother resides on John street. Dr. Butler was called and was of course paid for his services by Mrs. Vanderbilt, who visited the child after the accident and gave instructions to have him properly cared for.

The mother claims that at the time, instead of employing a nurse, it was arranged to have her care for the child and as this necessitated giving up work elsewhere Dr. Butler was to charge for her services as a nurse. She claimed that her bill in his bill. She claimed that later Dr. Butler was $44 but that later Dr. Butler stated that he had put it in for $42. She sued him for $42. He denied all her statements about the nursing arrangements and stated that the bill to Mrs. Vanderbilt was for his services and those of Dr. Sullivan, who was called in consultation, and had nothing to do with any nursing. His bill was $167 and that of Dr. Sullivan $30.

The decision was for defendant. The court holding that plaintiff had not shown that such an arrangement for the nursing bill had been made, it being her testimony against Dr. Butler's.

WHY A SPECIAL ELECTION?

Is it to Dodge Responsibility for the Charter Change Mistake?

To the Editor of The News:

It is plainly evident to all that the present proposed changes in the city charter are clearly in the interests of what we remember (and most unfavorably) as "The Old Combine."

If the schemers who were instrumental in framing the amendments recently introduced in the General Assembly by the representative from the First district now find that public sentiment is against their proposed changes, if they are good sports why don't they acknowledge their mistake and have the judiciary committee immediately report unfavorably upon the bill, instead of trying to dodge the responsibility of their error by advocating the unnecessary, troublesome and expensive operation of submitting the question to a special election?

PREPARING FOR WORK.

Committee of Twenty-Five May Start on Business This Week.

While only one of the sub-committees of the Committee of Twenty-Five has so far reported, Chairman Congdon hopes to be able to have a meeting this week, Thursday or Friday evening, with enough business reported to give the committee something on which to start. He is anxious to begin the consideration of the various items and there are a number of matters which probably are ready.

At the meeting of the committee on streets and street lights Monday evening, a representative of the Cleveland Vapor Light Company, the contractors for the present gas lights showed pictures of ornamental poles which his company is prepared to put up in case it receives the contract for another period. The price for the illumination of Thames street was not received, and it is understood that it will take some weeks to prepare it, for there is to be considered the matter of laying a conduit in the street for the underground feed wires, these lamps being lighted from conduits.

The committee on health met the Newport Hospital trustees at the hospital Monday evening and talked over the contract for caring for contagious cases sent by the Board of Health.

PLANNING FOR PLAYGROUNDS

There was a meeting Monday afternoon of some of those interested in playgrounds, to talk over what should be done at the present time to prepare for the proper use of the grounds the coming season. A bill is now before the legislature, in accordance with the vote of the Council last year, for a playground commission, and it was felt that if it were adopted some action should be taken to bring to the Council the need of a supervisor of the work on the playgrounds, in accordance with suggestions made last year by a representative of the general playgrounds and playfields committee.

Colonel Barnett New Major General Commandant of Marine Corps.

Colonel George Barnett was nominated Monday by President Wilson as major general commandant of the marine corps He succeeded Major General William P Biddle, whose request for retirement has been granted Colonel Barnett will serve as commandant under the four years' detail provided for in the bill recently signed by the President, and at the expiration of the four years will return to his rank in the line

Colonel Barnett's strongest rival for the appointment was Colonel Littleton Waller T Waller, who was supported by the entire Virginia delegation in Congress Colonel Waller the ranking colonel of the marine corps, has made an enviable record, but Secretary of the Navy Daniels felt he could not consistently recommend him

CONGRESS AIDS FARMERS.

Appropriation for the Benefit of Agriculturalists Increased Every Year.

Organization Would Help Planters—Hearings on Trust Question Unnecessary at Present.

[Washington Correspondence of the News]

WASHINGTON, Feb 2—Every year Congress does more and more for the farmer The appropriations for the Agricultural Department have increased in the past 20 years from $2 000,000 to $20 000,000, all in the interest of farmers although a large portion of the sum has gone into scientific bureaus, weather service, traveling expenses inspection service and a lot more side issues which only incidentally affect the farmer

But more and more interest is paid to the farmer Legislation in the interest of the farmer receives more consideration than formerly More members of Congress talk about doing something for the agriculturalist and mean it than ever before Legislation for the farmer in the future as in the past will benefit a lot of individual workers who know how to get the most out of appropriations but at the same time the legislation will be for the benefit of the agricultural class

It was just after the President's message had been delivered on the trust question and Murdock of Kansas was questioning Chairman Adamson of the Interstate commerce committee

Will you have hearings? asked Murdock

I can't say yet ' replied Adamson With all the messages bills reports letters documents etc which we have not yet read and digested it may be that we will have information enough to proceed without giving hearings

And the House seemed to acquiesce for the members now that if the committees ever begin hearings on the trust question there will be no possible adjournment until late in the fall

It always amuses me said Congressman Butler of Pennsylvania to hear a man get up in the House when five or ten minutes have been given him and begin by saying It will be impossible for me in the limited time at my disposal to discuss this momentous question and then go right along and discuss it The request for that he will be given leave to extend his remarks in the Record with the result that we will see several pages of elaborate discussion of the subject which he could not discuss in the limited time [illegible] in Congress

A Senator was talking about the Alaska bill last week He was a man who was supposed to have knowledge of the subject He spoke from the Republican side there was a group of half a dozen Republicans in the back part of the hall talking among themselves Not a single seat on the Democratic side was occupied And yet there is talk of Senatorial courtesy It does not always apply in the Senate

Replying to a complaint in the House that many measures did not receive consideration Speaker Clark took the floor and pointed out the different methods by which a bill could be brought before the House Telling what he thought the Speaker should do he said It I believe there is a general sentiment in the House in favor of any bill amounting to a majority or anywhere near two thirds of the House I will recognize a member to call up that bill under suspension of the rules

If any man has a two thirds majority for his bill the suspension of the rules method is the surest way of getting action in the House It is quick, and no chance to amend the bill is given

Democrats and Republicans denounced the Alaska railroad bill as socialism Owning and operating railroads is that socialism ' Congressman Switzer an Ohio Republican, criticising the President said

From where comes this sudden demand for adopting the socialistic stunt? We know that our President is running a neck and neck-race with the great leader of the Bull Moose party to put over certain so called Progressive measures regardless of the fact that the Democratic platform does not call for government ownership of railways '

FOR NAVAL COLLIERS.

Maryland Steel Company the Lowest Bidders for New Ships.

The Maryland Steel Company of Sparrows Point Md, was the lowest bidder for two new naval colliers Monday at a price of $945 000 each Several other concerns declined to bid on the ground that the appropriation for the ships was insufficient

The new colliers are intended primarily for the use of the Isthmian Canal Commission but are to be designed to permit ready conversion into naval colliers capable of coaling battleships and other naval craft at sea They will be the first of a great fleet of similar craft intended to maintain supply of coal in the Canal Zone for the vessels expected to pass through the Panama canal

In time of war all these colliers may be diverted to naval uses hence they are so constructed as to carry a battery of light guns and to be generally serviceable for naval uses

54 Stanwood St Dorchester Mass.—"For the past few years my scalp was very much affected with dandruff. It would itch and burn and cause loss of sleep I found pimples and many sores appearing on my scalp The itching and burning of the scalp were so intense that I scratched and thereby caused the sores to appear My hair would be dry and thin and would keep falling out gradually, mainly coming out from the top of my head My coat collar would always be covered with dandruff and as it scaled off it could be seen plainly in my hair

I tried many remedies but without success The trouble having lasted for about five years I finally purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and Ointment The first application of Cuticura Soap and Ointment showed results The itching stopped and the dandruff had begun to disappear After washing my head with Cuticura Soap each night for two months and then applying the Cuticura Ointment after my hair was dried I was entirely cured (Signed) Bernard Broderick, May 17 1913

He spoke from the Republican side; there was a group of half a dozen Republicans in the back part of the hall talking among themselves. Not a single seat on the Democratic side was occupied. And yet there is talk of "Senatorial courtesy." It does not always apply in the Senate.

Replying to a complaint in the House that many measures did not receive consideration, Speaker Clark took the floor and pointed out the different methods by which a bill could be brought before the House. Telling what he thought the Speaker should do, he said: "If I believe there is a pronounced sentiment in the House in favor of any bill, amounting to a majority or anywhere near two thirds of the House, I will recognize a member to call up that bill under suspension of the rules."

If any man has a two thirds majority for his bill the suspension of the rules method is the surest way of getting action in the House it is quick, and no chance to amend the bill is given.

Democrats and Republicans denounced the Alaska railroad bill as socialism. Owning and operating railroads, is that socialism? Congressman Switzer, an Ohio Republican, criticising the President, said:

"From where comes this sudden demand for adopting the socialistic stunt? We know that our President is running a neck and neck race with the great leader of the Bull Moose party to put over certain so called Progressive measures, regardless of the fact that the Democratic platform does not call for government ownership of railways."

FOR NAVAL COLLIERS.

Maryland Steel Company the Lowest Bidders for New Ships.

The Maryland Steel Company of Sparrow's Point, Md., was the lowest bidder for two new naval colliers Monday, at a price of $945,000 each. Several other concerns declined to bid, on the ground that the appropriation for the ships was insufficient.

The new colliers are intended primarily for the use of the Isthmian Canal Commission, but are to be designed to permit ready conversion into naval colliers, capable of coaling battleships and other naval craft at sea. They will be the first of a great fleet of similar craft intended to maintain a supply of coal in the Canal Zone for the vessels expected to pass through the Panama canal.

In time of war, all these colliers may be diverted to naval uses, hence they are so constructed as to carry a battery of light guns and to be generally serviceable for naval uses.

DOCTORS ENDORSE

Newbro's Herpicide

When a doctor endorses a preparation it means more than an ordinary testimonial. His opinion is always that of the professional man devoted to the welfare of the people.

Dr. J. J. Boyd, Covington, Tenn. says: "I feel it my duty to write this for the benefit of those suffering from dandruff. In the average case a few applications of Newbro's Herpicide will remove all dandruff. It is advisable to continue its use for several weeks."

The words of J. B. Thompson, M. D., No. 2 Burrough Place, Cor. Hollis St., Boston, Mass., are not less enthusiastic: "I can only speak in praise of Newbro's Herpicide. It is all that is claimed and perhaps more. Herpicide not only cleanses the scalp but brightens the hair, gives it life and makes it soft."

Dr. T. A. Moore, Duncan, Ariz., writes of his experience: "My scalp was in places covered by patches of dry, scaly material and the itching was incessant. Since using Herpicide all these evils have disappeared and my hair is soft, smooth and growing. Hair has grown on spots before but thinly covered."

Newbro's Herpicide is the original remedy to kill the dandruff germ and stop falling hair. The terrible itching which goes with dandruff is allayed almost at once.

Herpicide is for sale at Drug Stores and one dollar size bottles are guaranteed. Applications may be obtained at the leading barber shops. Be sure you get genuine Herpicide. Send 10c in postage for sample and book to The Herpicide Co., Dept. R., Detroit, Mich. F. L. Fowell Pharmacy, Special Agents.

DANDRUFF COVERED COAT COLLAR
Scalp Itched and Burned Intensely. Hair Dry and Thin. Kept Falling Out. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment Entirely Cured.

84 Stanwood St., Dorchester, Mass.—"For the past few years my scalp was very much affected with dandruff. It would itch and burn and cause loss of sleep. I found pimples and many sores appearing on my scalp. The itching and burning of the scalp were so intense that I scratched and thereby caused the sores to appear. My hair would be dry and thin and would keep falling out gradually, mainly coming out from the top of my head. My coat collar would always be covered with dandruff and as it sealed off it could be seen plainly in my hair.
"I tried many remedies but without success. The trouble having lasted for about five years I finally purchased a box of Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first application of Cuticura Soap and Ointment showed results. The itching stopped and the dandruff had begun to disappear. After washing my head with Cuticura Soap each night for two months and then applying the Cuticura Ointment after my hair was dried I was entirely cured." (Signed) Bernard Bresnick, May 17, 1913.
For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Ointment have afforded the most economical treatment for affections of the skin and scalp that torture, itch, burn, scale, and destroy sleep. Sold everywhere. Sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address post-card "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."

EASTERN YACHT CLUB ACCEPTS CHALLENGE.

Sixth International Sonder Yacht Contest Assured.

American Teams to Hold Trial Races Off Marblehead Next July.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—A challenge for a sixth international contest with Sonder yachts, to be sailed at Kiel in June, 1915, has been received from the Kaiserlicher Yacht Club, and accepted by the Eastern Yacht Club. Trial races for the American team will be sailed at Marblehead next July.

The international Sonder yacht series, which began in 1906, with races at Marblehead, now stands 4 to 1 in favor of the United States, the American boats winning at Marblehead in 1906, 1909 and 1913, and at Kiel in 1911. The Germans won at Kiel in 1907. The German yachtsmen, in spite of repeated defeats, are still very keen regarding the class, and while acknowledging themselves outbuilt nearly every year they have persevered in an effort to overtake the American fliers. Since the races at Marblehead last fall they have been paying considerable attention to sails for the small boats, basing their experiments on a suit which Guy Lowell, owner of the American yacht Cima, left with them after the races in Kiel in 1911.

Since the introduction of Sonder yachting in this country nearly 50 of these small open boats have been built and raced with more or less success in Buzzard's bay, as well as at Marblehead, and this year a class has been started in upper Long Island sound. Between a dozen or more very fast boats still available in Massachusetts bay and the new Long Island class it is believed that the American trial races, which will begin July 13 will bring out a good sized fleet. The arrangements for the trial races will be made by a recently appointed committee of the Eastern Yacht Club, consisting of Henry Howard, chairman; Louis M. Clark, commodore Herbert M. Sears, and Charles P. Curtis.

As in the races at Kiel in 1907 and 1911 the principal prize will be the Emperor William cup, with the Prince Henry trophy as a second prize. The Kiel races will be held some time after June 15, 1915 so that it will be necessary to ship the American boats before May 1. It is for that reason that the trial races are held 11 months in advance. Yachtsmen throughout the country have been invited to enter the American trials, entries for which will close on July 6.

EXTENSION MAY BE GRANTED.

Many New Englanders Holders of Boston & Maine One-Year Notes.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Announcement was made today that Vice President Hobbs of the Boston & Maine railroad would be at the office of the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., today, to arrange with local holders of the road's one-year notes for an extension until June 2. Ten million dollars of these notes fall due today, and an additional $17,000,000 in June, at which time the road hopes to have a comprehensive plan formulated for financial re-organization. The greater part of the notes are held in New England where a majority of the holders have announced their willingness to grant the extension asked for. The local banking office said that holders of the notes here would doubtless take similar action.

At the office of Morgan & Co., it was said that over 96 per cent of the holdings of the notes falling due today had assented to the extension, including between $300,000 and $400,000 of notes whose holders were today in conference with the Boston & Maine representative at the Morgan banking house.

Just what the attitude of the railroad will be toward non-assenting note holders could not be ascertained. It is known that there is no money in the Boston & Maine treasury to meet the demands of note holders who may refuse an extension of time, and the bankers have already stated that they have no cash with which to meet such demands. It was thought probable that some definite statement dealing with the local end of the situation would be issued at the close of the day.

Capital to be Attacked by Thousands of Citizen Soldiers.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—The national capital will be attacked next summer by citizen soldiers during the manoeuvres to be held here then. One hundred years ago next September, Washington was attacked by the British. During the coming summer the attacking party will be the 10,000 members of the Pennsylvania National Guard. The capital will be defended by the militiamen of Maryland, Delaware, Virginia and West Virginia, reinforced by cavalry men from Fort Myer. Twenty-five thousand soldiers will participate in the manoeuvres, which are being planned by the War Department through Brigadier General Mills, chief of militia affairs. The date of the attack has not yet been determined.

Noon—Except for a slight decline in the early trading, which was soon overcome, the market held firm throughout the morning and in some instances material gains were made. The Hill stocks were in especial good demand. The advance was stimulated by unofficial reports that Great Northern and Northern Pacific might give up control of Burlington, presenting the possibility of disbursements for holders of stock in the controlling companies. Rock Island stocks and bonds advanced from the low prices of the recent decline. General Motors jumped 12 points and other low-priced specialties rose sharply, but the principal demand was for investment stocks. Can was weak, reflecting disappointment at the company's annual report, which showed a decline in net of nearly $1,000,000. Bonds were firm. EASTERN YACHT CLUB ACCEPTS CHALLENGE.

Sixth International Sonder Yacht Contest Assured.

American Teams to Hold Trial Races Off Marblehead Next July.

BOSTON, Feb. 3.—A challenge for a sixth international contest with Sonder yachts, to be sailed at Kiel in June, 1915, has been received from the Kaiserlicher Yacht Club, and accepted by the Eastern Yacht Club. Trial races for the American team will be sailed at Marblehead next July.

The International Sonder yacht series, which began in 1906, with races at Marblehead, now stands 4 to 1 in favor of the United States, the American boats winning at Marblehead in 1906, 1909 and 1913, and at Kiel in 1911. The Germans won at Kiel in 1907. The German yachtsmen, in spite of repeated defeats, are still very keen regarding the class, and while acknowledging themselves outbuilt nearly every year they have persevered in an effort to overtake the American fliers. Since the races at Marblehead last fall they have been paying considerable attention to sails for the small boats, basing their experiments on a suit which Guy Lowell, owner of the American yacht Cima, left with them after the races in Kiel in 1911.

Since the introduction of Sonder yachting in this country nearly 50 of these small open boats have been built and raced with more or less success in Buzzard's bay, as well as at Marblehead, and this year a class has been started in upper Long Island sound. Between a dozen or more very fast boats still available in Massachusetts bay and the new Long Island class it is believed that the American trial races, which will begin July 18 will bring out a good sized fleet. The arrangements for the trial races will be made by a recently appointed committee of the Eastern Yacht Club, consisting of Henry Howard, chairman; Louis M. Clark, commodore Herbert M. Sears, and Charles P. Curtis.

As in the races at Kiel in 1907 and 1911 the principal prize will be the Emperor William cup, with the Prince Henry trophy as a second prize. The Kiel races will be held some time after June 15, 1915, so that it will be necessary to ship the American boats before May 1. It is for that reason that the trial races are held 11 months in advance. Yachtsmen throughout the country have been invited to enter the American trials, entries for which will close on July 6.

EXTENSION MAY BE GRANTED.

Many New Englanders Holders of Boston & Maine One-Year Notes.

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—Announcement was made today that Vice President Hobbs of the Boston & Maine railroad would be at the office of the banking house of J. P. Morgan & Co., today, to arrange with local holders of the road's one-year notes for an extension until June 2. Ten million dollars of these notes fall due today, and an additional $17,000,000 in June, at which time the road hopes to have a comprehensive plan formulated for financial re-organization. The greater part of the notes are held in New England where a majority of the holders have announced their willingness to grant the extension asked for. The local banking office said that holders of the notes here would doubtless take similar action.

At the office of Morgan & Co., it was said that over 96 per cent of the holdings of the notes falling due today had assented to the extension, including between $300,000 and $400,000 of notes whose holders were today in conference with the Boston & Maine representative at the Morgan banking house.

Just what the attitude of the railroad will be toward non-assenting note holders could not be ascertained. It is known that there is no money in the Boston & Maine treasury to meet the demands of note holders who may refuse an extension of time, and the bankers have already stated that they have no cash with which to meet such demands. It was thought probable that some definite statement dealing with the local end of the situation would be issued at the close of the day.

TRAVEL ON THE HIGHWAYS.

Census of State Indicates Seventy-Three Per Cent as Automobile.

Count for Traffic Made at Quaker Hill Runs Evenly for Days Other Than Sundays

In the twelfth annual report of the state Board of Public Roads, recently presented to the General Assembly are some statistics which throw light on the present use of some of the highways of Rhode Island With a view of ascertaining what the travel really was over the roads the board had made during the first week in last August a census of the vehicles passing on nine different roads, presumably the most travelled sections The time selected—beginning Saturday August 2 and ending Friday August 8—was at the height of the summer season, when big touring automobiles were much in evidence

The count was made from 6 a m to 12 midnight This would naturally take in most of the automobiles but would miss much of the early farmer travel with milk, vegetables etc The fact that an entire week was taken cut out the superabundance of automobile travel on Sunday The taking of a number of different roads gave opportunity to learn if the conditions in one section were more or less identical with others

In the nine places where the count was made a total of 43 9?7 vehicles were enumerated 32 100 automobile propelled and 11 827 horse-drawn This means that a little more than 73 per cent of the travel was automobile and a little less than 27 per cent or just a trifle over one quarter horse drawn

The horse drawn vehicles were divided into six classes and the total of each was One horse wagons 6 525 two horse wagons 1 476 three horse wagons 17 four horse wagons 63 one-horse carriages or buggies 3 600, two horse carriages 145

The automobile apparatus was divided into five groups—under 25 horse power over 25 horse power, automobile trucks heavy automobile delivery wagons of 1 500 pounds capacity or under and motorcycles The following are the figures Automobiles under 25 horse power 7 847 over 25 horse power 20 [illegible] heavy motor trucks 1 007 light trucks 1 087 motorcycles 1 535 This classification cannot be as exact as that of the horse drawn vehicles for it must have been guess work to separate the classes of automobiles and trucks Still the total number is what counts

The places selected for counting were 1 the main road from Providence Narragansett Pier etc, to Westerly the count being at Dockery Corner Wakefield 2 Providence to Chepachet count made at Centredale 3 Providence to Narragansett Pier shore road count made at Saunders town fire station 4 Providence Fall River etc to Newport count made at Quaker Hill on East Main road 5 Fall River to Tiverton Newport and Seaconnet Point count made at trolley waiting room at bridge 6 Providence to Narragansett Pier and Wakefield inner road count made at Camp avenue and post road North Kingstown 7 Providence to Washington count made at Lewis corner Washington 8 Mendon road Providence to Woonsocket count made at Berkeley 9 Providence to Warren count made at Peck's corner Barrington

In what might be called the country district No 7 to Washington the wagon traffic held up well there being 2 3?6 wagon to 2 876 automobile vehicles In the other real country district No 2 there were 2 420 horse to 3 10 automobiles On the road to Woonsocket there were 1 557 horse to ?001 automobiles or about one half

As a matter of local interest the count is given for the traffic counted on Quaker Hill the figures being for the whole week One-horse wagons 95? two horse 16 four horse 1 one horse buggies 2?3 two horse carriages 1? automobiles all sizes 1 719 motor trucks all sizes 88 motorcycles 129 total 2 ?60 The total by days was Saturday 40? Sunday 1 060 Monday ?09 Tuesday 4?? Wednesday 460 Thursday 424 Friday 408 The number runs rather evenly for the days other than Sunday but the total looks rather small

ST PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATIONS

There is some talk of a celebration of St Patrick's day in Newport next month and the matter is now being considered by a committee Fall River is to have a local celebration New York as usual is to have a parade and there is talk about its being the last The adoption of home rule has it is said made unnecessary the continuance of St Patrick's Day parades Besides the old fellows are becoming a trifle stiff in the joints and cannot march so well and like the Grand Army there are not so many of them as once there were

GAME IS CERTAIN.

Rogers Team Desirous of Playing Strong New York Quintet.

Only the members of the Rogers basket ball team together with Manager Sweeney and several of the faculty are informed concerning the game to be played with the High School of Commerce of New York Monday February 23 It has been reported that the game has not been arranged but such is not the fact According to Manager Sweeney, the game is certain

About two weeks ago the game was suggested by a member of the team who had gone into the financial details thoroughly and had shown the manager that Rogers could not lose even if the visiting team were given full expenses for such a long trip The prospects of a game were then discussed and the faculty being agreeable Manager Sweeney immediately wrote to the High School of Commerce He received an answer by telegram which said the terms which Rogers offered were satisfactory, and asked which way Manager Sweeney would like to have them come The assertion that Rogers has not arranged a game is somewhat confusing the date having been agreed upon by both managers and the only thing remaining being the settlement of a few difficulties bound to come up when such a long trip is planned

The desire to play a New York team to show how strong Rogers really is has been so strongly fastened on the manager and players that even if the Commerce game were cancelled arrangements would immediately go forward to play some other strong New York quintet such as DeWitt Clinton Stuyvesant or Erasmus Hall High School

CHECK FOR FIREMEN.

Ex-Mayor Daniel B. Fearing Appreciates Fine Work of Department.

Chief Kirwin has received from ex-Mayor Daniel B Fearing, now in Bermuda, a check for $100 for the Firemen's Relief Association, and the following letter expressing his feelings in regard to the recent fire at his stable

Palm Ridge, Fairyland, West Pembroke, Bermuda, Jan 31, 1914

Andrew J Kirwin, Esq, Chief Fire Dept, Newport R I

Dear Sir I beg to enclose you my cheque for $100 for your Firemen's Relief Fund and at the same time I wish to express to you and the men of your command the deep appreciation of both Mrs Fearing and myself of the fine work done by the Newport fire department at the fire on January 13 when my stable was destroyed We both regret sincerely the injuries received by several of the men while fighting not only the fire but such extreme cold and trust that ere you receive this all will be well and ready to once more respond to the call of duty

I am more than pleased to learn that the statement in the Newport papers in regard to the late use of the hydrant in my grounds was not true The statement that a gate had to be forced to get into my main entrance to the south of the house was of course not so as there has not been any sort of a gate there for over 30 years Allow me once more to express my appreciation of the fine work of your department under such severe circumstances and to sign myself

"Yours faithfully
"Daniel B Fearing

Her father was Captain Gideon Dodge one of the sturdy mariners of the island. She was a granddaughter of Dr. Wiley, well known in the early history of Block Island, and cousin to Ida Lewis, the heroine of Lime Rock lighthouse fame.

Mrs. Dodge is survived by her husband, ex-Representative Darius B. Dodge, proprietor of the Island Drug Store; her daughter, Mrs. Elmer H Day, and her grandson, Darius Brainerd Day.

The funeral took place today at the First Baptist Church, of which Mrs. Dodge was a life-long member.

BASKET BALL CONTESTS.

St. Augustin's, Galahad, St. Mary's and Juniors Win Fast Games.

Although closely pressed in the first half of the game at the Father Mathew hall Monday evening, the St. Augustin's quintet came back strong in the second, out-scoring the Mystics 18-6 and winning the game 30-16. A large number of St. Augustin's fans were on hand to cheer their team along, making considerable noise in the second half, when their men ran away with the Mystics, who had exceptionally poor luck in shooting.

Both teams started well and the first half was nip and tuck all the way, the St. Augustin's finally leading by a close score of 12-10. At the start of the second period the Mystics excelled, but were unable to put the ball in the net. As the half gradually wore away the "Saints" began to score often. McCarthy leading with six goals. McCarthy and Carroll played well for the winners, while Martin and Cottrell excelled for the Mystics. The line-up and summary:

At the Galahad Club rooms the first team defeated the St. Mary's Holy Name by the score of 30 to 19, in a fast and rough game. The Galahads had things their own way in the first half, and led at the end, 20 to 10. In the second period the Holy Names played a much faster game, but were still behind, 10 to 9. Wilkinson and Gustafson did most of the scoring for Galahad, while Johnson played a good game in the back field. Kenney and P. Sullivan did well for the losers. Line-up and summary:

GIVES A BIRTHDAY DINNER.

Deputy Sheriff Frank L. DeBlois observed his birthday as usual, by entertaining a number of his friends at dinner in the evening. The event took place at the La Forge cottage and was the usual fine affair, attended by a number of Mr. DeBlois's personal friends, but in no way a political party gathering. Roses and carnations were the table decorations. Mr. DeBlois does not conceal his age, he is 52.

TRAVEL ON THE HIGHWAYS.

Census of State Indicates Seventy-Three Per Cent as Automobile.

Count for Traffic Made at Quaker Hill Runs Evenly for Days Other Than Sundays.

In the twelfth annual report of the State Board of Public Roads, recently presented to the General Assembly, are some statistics which throw light on the present use of some of the highways of Rhode Island. With a view of ascertaining what the travel really was over the roads, the board had made during the first week in last August, a census of the vehicles passing on nine different roads, presumably the most travelled sections. The time selected—beginning Saturday, August 2, and ending Friday, August 8—was at the height of the summer season, when big touring automobiles were much in evidence.

The count was made from 6 a. m. to 12 midnight. This would naturally take in most of the automobiles, but would miss much of the early farmer travel with milk, vegetables, etc. The fact that an entire week was taken cut out the superabundance of automobile travel on Sunday. The taking of a number of different roads gave opportunity to learn if the conditions in one section were more or less identical with others.

In the nine places where the count was made a total of 43,927 vehicles were enumerated, 32,100 automobile-propelled and 11,827 horse-drawn. This means that a little more than 73 per cent of the travel was automobile and a little less than 27 per cent, or just a trifle over one quarter, horse-drawn.

The horse-drawn vehicles were divided into six classes and the total of each was: One-horse wagons 6,535, two-horse wagons 1,476, three-horse wagons 17, four-horse wagons 63, one-horse carriages or buggies 3,600, two-horse carriages 148.

The automobile apparatus was divided into five groups—under 25 horse power, over 25 horse power, automobile trucks, heavy; automobile delivery wagons of 1,500 pounds capacity or under, and motorcycles. The following are the figures: Automobiles under 25 horse power 7,847, over 25 horse power 20,623, heavy motor trucks 1,007, light trucks 1,087, motorcycles 1,536. This classification cannot be as exact as that of the horse-drawn vehicles, for it must have been guess work to separate the classes of automobiles and trucks. Still, the total number is what counts.

The places selected for counting were: 1, the main road from Providence, Narragansett Pier, etc., to Westerly, the count being at Dockery Corner, Wakefield; 2, Providence to Chepachet, count made at Centredale; 3, Providence to Narragansett Pier, shore road, count made at Saunderstown fire station; 4, Providence, Fall River, etc., to Newport, count made at Quaker Hill on East Main road; 5, Fall River to Tiverton, Newport and Sraconnet Point, count made at trolley waiting room at bridge; 6, Providence to Narragansett Pier and Wakefield, inner road, count made at Camp avenue and post road, North Kingstown; 7, Providence to Washington, count made at Lewis corner, Washington; 8, Mendon road, Providence to Woonsocket, count made at Berkeley; 9, Providence to Warren, count made at Peck's corner, Barrington.

In what might be called the country district No. 7, to Wasnington, the wagon traffic held up well, there being 2,356 wagon to 2,876 automobile vehicles. In the other real country district No 2, there were 2,420 horse to 3,105 automobiles. On the road to Woonsocket there were 1,555 horse to 3,001 automobiles or about one half.

As a matter of local interest the count is given for the traffic counted at Quaker Hill the figures being for the whole week. One-horse wagons 255, two-horse 46, four-horse 1, one-horse buggies 273, two-horse carriages 19, automobiles, all sizes, 1,719; motor trucks all sizes, 88; motorcycles 129, total 3,660. The total by days was: Saturday 407, Sunday 1,060, Monday 209, Tuesday 432, Wednesday 460, Thursday 424, Friday 468. The number runs rather evenly for the days other than Sunday but the total looks rather small.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY CELEBRATIONS.

There is some talk of a celebration of St. Patrick's day in Newport next month and the matter is now being considered by a committee. Fall River is to have a local celebration. New York as usual is to have a parade, and there is talk about its being the last. The adoption of home rule has, it is claimed, made unnecessary the continuance of St. Patrick's Day parades. Besides, the old fellows are becoming a trifle stiff in the joints and cannot march so well, and like the Grand Army there are not so many of them as once there were.

GAME IS CERTAIN.

Rogers Team Desirous of Playing Strong New York Quintet.

Only the members of the Rogers basket ball team, together with Manager Sweeney and several of the faculty, are informed concerning the game to be played with the High School of Commerce of New York Monday, February 23. It has been reported that the game has not been arranged, but such is not the fact. According to Manager Sweeney, the game is certain.

About two weeks ago the game was suggested by a member of the team who had gone into the financial details thoroughly and had shown the manager that Rogers could not lose, even if the visiting team were given full expenses for such a long trip. The prospects of a game were then discussed and, the faculty being agreeable, Manager Sweeney immediately wrote to the High School of Commerce. He received an answer by telegram which said the terms which Rogers offered were satisfactory, and asked which way Mandger Sweeney would like to have them come. The assertion that Rogers has not arranged a game is somewhat confusing, the date having been agreed upon by both managers, and the only thing remaining being the settlement of a few difficulties bound to come up when such a long trip is planned.

The desire to play a New York team to show how strong Rogers really is, has been so strongly fastened on the manager and players, that, even if the Commerce game were cancelled, arrangements would immediately go forward to play some other strong New York quintet, such as DeWitt Clinton, Stuyvesant or Erasmus Hall High School.

AN UP-TO-DATE ORATOR.

Dr. Cairns to Treat Recent Phases of the Prohibition Question.

At the prohibition lecture by Dr. T. Alex. Cairns, this evening, at the Y. M. C. A., there will be a solo by a young man who is said to be one of Newport's coming vocalists.

The Elizabeth N. J., Daily Journal says "Dr. T. Alex. Cairns produced much merriment with his witty allies and stories intermingled with some strong thrusts regarding civic duty." An opportunity to hear such a speaker, of national reputation treat he recent phases of the prohibition question is rare. Dr. Cairns is an up-to-date orator of the first rate, and while giving real entertainment will also impart information. A Maryland paper says he "delighted his audience," and ex-Congressman A. R. Webber of Ohio says Dr. Cairns "never occupies a platform that he does not leave the audience better for his address."

DEATH OF MRS. LAVENE.

News has been received here of the death in Chicago of Mrs. Helena Charlotta Mathilde Lavene, wife of Mr. Claes W. Lavene, who was known to many of the Swedish people of Newport. She was born in Wilhelmsson, Sweden, about 60 years ago, and had lived the greater part of her life in Chicago, where her husband is a leading druggist. She is survived by a husband, a mother and four sisters living in Chicago and a number of relatives in Newport. About three years ago, after a visit to Sweden, Mr. and Mrs. Lavene came to Newport to see their relatives and friends.

CHECK FOR FIREMEN.

Ex-Mayor Daniel B. Fearing Appreciates Fine Work of Department.

Chief Kirwin has received from ex-Mayor Daniel B. Fearing, now in Bermuda, a check for $100 for the Firemen's Relief Association, and the following letter expressing his feelings in regard to the recent fire at his stable:

"Palm Ridge, Fairyland, West Pembroke, Bermuda, Jan. 31, 1914.

"Andrew J. Kirwin, Esq., Chief Fire Dept., Newport, R. I.

"Dear Sir: I beg to enclose you my cheque for $100 for your Firemen's Relief Fund and at the same time I wish to express to you and the men of your command the deep appreciation of both Mrs. Fearing and myself of the fine work done by the Newport fire department at the fire on January 13, when my stable was destroyed. We both regret sincerely the injuries received by several of the men while fighting not only the fire but such extreme cold, and trust that ere you receive this all will be well and ready to once more respond to the call of duty.

"I am more than pleased to learn that the statement in the Newport papers in regard to the late use of the hydrant in my grounds was not true. The statement that a gate had to be forced to get into my main entrance to the south of the house was of course not so, as there has not been any sort of a gate there for over 30 years. Allow me once more to express my appreciation of the fine work of your department under such severe circumstances and to sign my self

"Yours faithfully
"Daniel B. Fearing."

HARPER—TOBIN.

Ceremony at Club Cottage and Bridal Dinner at Muenchinger-King.

The marriage of Miss Florence Tobin to Mr. William Harper, Jr., of New York, which took place Monday evening at the Club Cottage on Bellevue avenue, was witnessed by a small company of relatives and friends from among the winter residents of Newport. The ceremony took place in the reception room, which was decorated with palms and other potted plants with a wealth of yellow flowers, and was performed by Rev. William B. Meenan, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

In the absence of her cousin, Mr. George Benzinger of New York, who was unable to be present, the bride was given away by her aunt, Mrs. James J. Brown. The bridal gown was of rose point Irish linen lace trimmed with marabout and her long tulle veil was held by a tiara of pearls and diamonds, the gift of Mrs. Brown to her niece. She carried a shower bouquet of Bride roses and lilies of the valley. Mrs. Mortimer Carroll of Chicago, an older sister, was the matron of honor, and a younger sister, Miss Helen Tobin, flower girl, the former wearing a costume of lace and the latter pink satin chiffon. The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Daniel N. Harper of New Bloomfield, N. J. Mrs. Brown wore a gown decorated with pearls, crystals and silver, which she wore at the coronation of King George of England.

Following the wedding a bridal dinner was served at the Muenchinger-King for the wedding party and a few guests. The table was decorated in yellow, daffodils.

Mr. and Mrs. Harper left on the Fall River Line steamer for New York and will sail in a short time for the West Indies, returning to make their residence in New York.

POLICE NOTES.

The police court report this morning was confined to a single case. A man, returned from probation by the probation officer, was sent to the workhouse for six months. He had not been doing very much financially, but there was no kick until he started on "raise ructions." Then he probation officer thought it time to take some action.

Sergeant Schneider reported for duty this morning, looking well and feeling well, he said. Everybody was glad to see "Joe," but no one was happier than Sergeant Leary, on whose shoulders has fallen much of the station house work. Sergeant Leary says the strain is more than an outsider realizes and he is glad to be out once more in the cold, with a chance to be in some mix-ups.

Sunday some of the electric lights were broken on Carroll avenue, apparently by boys who ought to know better.
